Clinical Guide to Mental Disability Evaluations Liza Gold, Donna L. Vanderpool, 2013-01-11 Disability evaluations are the most common clinical mental health evaluations conducted for nontreatment purposes. They place mental health professionals in the role of communicating information that is typically confidential to administrative and legal systems. Unfortunately, mental health professionals receive little to no training in conducting assessments that focus on disability and disability management and often do not understand the implications and risks of providing this information especially without conducting what are often specialized evaluations. Clinical Guide to Mental Health Disability Evaluations is geared for general mental health practitioners providing them with the basic information needed to competently provide the various types of disability evaluations. It also provides enough information to inform forensic mental health providers in conducting more specialized evaluations. The Modern Clinician's Guide to Working with LGBTQ+ Clients Margaret

Nichols, 2020-10-19 The Modern Clinician's Guide to Working with LGBTQ Clients is a ground breaking resource for therapists working with LGBTQ clients whose identity expressions span all gender, sex, and relationship diverse groups. The text also offers in depth coverage of clinical work with transgender, gender nonconforming, and nonbinary clients of all ages. With a wealth of therapeutic strategies and case studies, this resource helps professionals respond to this Big Tent community in an informed and empathetic way. Spanning sexuality, gender, relationships, and age groups, The Modern Clinician's Guide to Working with LGBTQ Clients is an invaluable reference for psychotherapists in a broad range of clinical settings.
