Alexander Hartmann, Frank Yatsu, Wolfgang Kuschinsky, 2012-12-06 In this volume one of a series of monographs devoted to the problems of cerebral ischemia and related topics we present the proceedings of an international conference on Cerebral Ischemia and Basic Mechanisms held in Bad Schachen Lake Constance Germany in June 1992 The enormous progress in research recently on the basic mechanisms associated with cerebral ischemia has provided greater insight into the pathophysiological mechanisms of reduced brain perfusion and decreased cerebral metabolism The high technology instrumentation used to unravel the intricacies of cerebral blood flow and metabolism includes positron emission tomography and magnetic resonance imaging A description of sophisticated neurophysiological techniques will give the reader insight into new models of reversible and irreversible tissue damage and changes at the molecular level have been described The therapeutic approaches which have developed from this research have been or will be used in clinical trials and will open new avenues in the treatment of stroke The organizers of the meeting would like to thank the advisory board for its helpful suggestions and the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft and other sponsors for their important support

Pathophysiology of Shock, Sepsis, and Organ Failure Günther Schlag, Heinz Redl, 2012-12-06 In this book current knowledge of the pathophysiology of shock sepsis and multi organ failure is presented The rapid progress which has been made and the results achieved in intensive care medicine are based on sound basic research which is duly reflected in these chapters Multiorgan failure is the foremost cause of postoperative and posttraumatic death and many complex mechanisms are involved Only with a good foundation of basic research can abnormalities in the physiological biochemical and morphological course of shock be recognized and the necessary conclusions for treatment drawn Therapy must proceed from profound knowledge of the multi variant physiological events in order to influence shock sepsis and organ failure Although numerous possibilities for therapy have arisen from pharmaceutical research in recent years they are beyond the scope of this book and are not discussed here To gain a better understanding of the pathophysiological events it was necessary to examine and to describe different models that simulate and reproduce these events Here we describe the causative agents shock and the consequences sepsis organ failure in two main sections divided on the basis of their pathophysiology
