Etsy Box Office Review:

Fandom Power Ethan Parker, AI, 2025-03-29 Fandom Power explores the significant influence of fan communities on film television and the broader media landscape It examines how passionate fans impact media content sometimes even reviving canceled shows or pressuring creators to alter storylines The book highlights that fan activism has become a potent force demonstrating how consumer demand directly affects creative decisions For instance fans have utilized crowdfunding campaigns to support media projects and have organized online to influence production showcasing their ability to shape entertainment The book delves into the sociological underpinnings of fandom the economic impact of fan activism and the ethics of fan creator interactions It progresses across three sections introducing core concepts analyzing case studies of successful fan interventions and exploring future models for fan creator collaboration By drawing upon audience research social media analytics and interviews Fandom Power offers a novel perspective framing fan activism as a form of cultural production rather than mere consumer behavior The Changing Meaning of Kitsch Max Rynänen, Paco

Barragán, 2023-04-26 This book inaugurates a new phase in kitsch studies Kitsch an aesthetic slur of the 19th and the 20th century is increasingly considered a positive term and at the heart of today's society Eleven distinguished authors from philosophy cultural studies and the arts discuss a wide range of topics including beauty fashion kitsch in the context of mourning bio art visual arts architecture and political kitsch In addition the editors provide a concise theoretical introduction to the volume and the subject The role of kitsch in contemporary culture and society is innovatively explored and the volume aims not to condemn but to accept and understand why kitsch has become acceptable today Saturday Review, 1948

Bank Group, 2016-01-14 Digital technologies are spreading rapidly but digital dividends the broader benefits of faster growth more jobs and better services are not If more than 40 percent of adults in East Africa pay their utility bills using a mobile phone why can't others around the world do the same If 8 million entrepreneurs in China one third of them women can use an e-commerce platform to export goods to 120 countries why can't entrepreneurs elsewhere achieve the same global reach And if India can provide unique digital identification to 1 billion people in five years and thereby reduce corruption by billions of dollars why can't other countries replicate its success Indeed what's holding back countries from realizing the profound and transformational effects that digital technologies are supposed to deliver Two main reasons First nearly 60 percent of the world's population are still offline and can't participate in the digital economy in any meaningful way Second and more important the benefits of digital technologies can be offset by growing risks Startups can disrupt incumbents but not when vested interests and regulatory uncertainty obstruct competition and the entry of new firms Employment opportunities may be greater but not when the labor market is polarized The internet can be a platform for universal empowerment but not when it becomes a tool for state control and elite capture The World Development Report 2016 shows that while the digital revolution has forged ahead its analog complements the regulations that promote entry and competition the skills that enable workers to access and then leverage the new economy and the institutions that are accountable to citizens have not kept pace And when these analog complements to digital investments are absent the development impact can be disappointing What then should countries do They should formulate digital development strategies that are much broader than current information and communication technology ICT strategies They should create a policy and institutional environment for technology that fosters the greatest benefits In short they need to build a strong analog foundation to deliver digital dividends to everyone everywhere
