Knight, 2004-02-12 The Literature of Satire is an accessible but sophisticated and wide ranging study of satire from the classics to the present in plays novels and the press as well as in verse In it Charles Knight analyses the rhetorical problems created by satire's complex relations to its community and examines how it exploits the genres it borrows. He argues that satire derives from an awareness of the differences between appearance, ideas and discourse. Knight provides illuminating readings of such satirists familiar and unfamiliar as Horace, Lucian, Jonson, Molière, Swift, Pope, Byron, Flaubert, Ostrovsky, Kundera and Rushdie. This broad-ranging examination sheds light on the nature and functions of satire as a mode of writing as well as on theoretical approaches to it. It will be of interest to scholars interested in literary theory as well as those specifically interested in satire.

History and Drama Joachim Küpper, Jan Mosch, Elena Penskaya, 2018-12-03. Aristotle's neat compartmentalization notwithstanding, Poetics ch. 9, historians and playwrights have both been laying claim to representations of the past, arguably since Antiquity but certainly since the Renaissance. At a time when narratology challenges historiographers to differentiate their emplotments, White from literary inventions, this thirteen-essay collection takes a fresh look at the production of historico-political knowledge in literature and the intricacies of reality and fiction. Written by experts who teach in Germany, Austria, Russia and the United States, the articles provide a thorough interpretation of early modern drama with a view to classical times and the 19th century as an ideological platform that is as open to royal self-fashioning and soteriology as it is to travesty and subverting the means and ends of historical interpretation. The comparative analysis of metapoetic and historiosophic aspects also sheds light on drama as a transnational phenomenon demonstrating the importance of the cultural net that links the multifaceted textual examples from France, Russia, England, Italy and the Netherlands.
