Board of Education* Charles L. Moore CPA, 2021-07-15 The election of the Biden Harris ticket brought out appropriately 75% of all registered voters It was historic that African American voters came out in numbers that surpassed the election where President Barack Obama won The one item that was absent from most election information was the education policy of the Democrats unlike the 2016 election between Clinton v Trump During that election front and center was the Hillary Clinton education agenda that clearly would punish alternative education in favor of public schools The difference in this election came down to over turnout in three key cities Detroit Milwaukee and Philadelphia Black Wall for Joe Biden where charter and schools of choice dominate the educational landscape These parents were reluctant to vote democratic when education is on the ballot because traditional public education has failed these communities and left them out of mainstream economic growth Therefore the parents and grandparents in these communities have used Education Choice in hopes and prayers that their children and grandchildren could get a better public education The landmark decision of Brown v Board of Education was supposed to give Blacks control of their public education give Black teachers better wages and equalize program funding Why is it that over approximately 2 900 000 students select charters or schools of choice over local public schools Why is that that over 80% of urban educators and their families make the same choice Because public schools continue to fail urban youth and feed the pipeline to prison This book goes in depth as to why this is the case and why money is in failure How can urban educators sell a product to families that they themselves won't buy Also the solution of increasing teachers pay and improving education is within the book Hoping for the Best Sarah Berryman, 2016-11-22 Fed up of how to books and people with perfect children who do wonderful things all of the time This is how it really is in our house It's hectic it's noisy and it's messy most of the time But by and large it's a happy house Parenting book Hoping for the Best Three months in the life of a twin plus one mummy offers a unique day to day glimpse into the challenges and craziness thrown at a mum to three young boys Sarah has real children They did not sleep through from day one They did not master baby led weaning They have all had the norovirus chicken pox and two of the three have had nits They have bitten and been bitten One has a hearing aid one wears splints at night to stop him walking on tip toes and one has a speech delay They play a little bicker a lot and are friends and enemies in equal measure Hoping for the Best gives a rare insight into daily life with identical twins and the dynamics between them their younger feistier sibling and the rest of the family The book will appeal to other parents and those who enjoy humorous writing and family life biographies Started as a diary the book was born when other school mums suggested that this would be just the kind of book that they would love to read not a parenting manual not a book about becoming a new mum but the true reality of life as a mum with identical twins plus one With Sarah s mantra Hoping for the best prepared for the worst and unsurprised by anything in between a quote from the American author Maya Angelou woven through the diary this account portrays an indelible impression of resilience and humour through the colourful challenges of each and every day Life Games Amanda Perry,2005 PC Mag ,2008-11 PCMag com is a leading authority on technology delivering Labs based independent reviews of the latest products and services Our expert industry analysis and practical solutions help you make better buying decisions and get more from technology Exploiting Direct Optimal Control for Motion Planning in Unstructured Environments Kristoffer Bergman,2021-03-16 During the last decades motion planning for autonomous systems has become an important area of research The high interest is not the least due to the development of systems such as self driving cars unmanned aerial vehicles and robotic manipulators The objective in optimal motion planning problems is to find feasible motion plans that also optimize a performance measure From a control perspective the problem is an instance of an optimal control problem This thesis addresses optimal motion planning problems for complex dynamical systems that operate in unstructured environments where no prior reference such as road lane information is available Some example scenarios are autonomous docking of vessels in harbors and autonomous parking of self driving tractor trailer vehicles at loading sites The focus is to develop optimal motion planning algorithms that can reliably be applied to these types of problems This is achieved by combining recent ideas from automatic control numerical optimization and robotics The first contribution is a systematic approach for computing local solutions to motion planning problems in challenging unstructured environments The solutions are computed by combining homotopy methods and direct optimal control techniques The general principle is to define a homotopy that transforms or preferably relaxes the original problem to an easily solved problem The approach is demonstrated in motion planning problems in 2D and 3D environments where the presented method outperforms a state of the art asymptotically optimal motion planner based on random sampling The second contribution is an optimization based framework for automatic generation of motion primitives for lattice based motion planners Given a family of systems the user only needs to specify which principle types of motions that are relevant for the considered system family Based on the selected principle motions and a selected system instance the framework computes a library of motion primitives by simultaneously optimizing the motions and the terminal states The final contribution of this thesis is a motion planning framework that combines the strengths of sampling based planners with direct optimal control in a novel way The sampling based planner is applied to the problem in a first step using a discretized search space where the system dynamics and objective function are chosen to coincide with those used in a second step based on optimal control. This combination ensures that the sampling based motion planner provides a feasible motion plan which is highly suitable as warm start to the optimal control step. Furthermore the second step is modified such that it also can be applied in a receding horizon fashion where the proposed combination of methods is used to provide theoretical guarantees in terms of recursive feasibility, worst case objective function value and convergence to the terminal state. The proposed motion planning framework is successfully applied to several problems in challenging unstructured environments for tractor trailer vehicles. The framework is also applied and tailored for maritime navigation for vessels in archipelagos and harbors where it is able to compute energy efficient trajectories which complies with the international regulations for preventing collisions at sea.
