Reflexivization in English and Polish Wojciech Kubinski, 2010-11-22 Over the past few decades the book series Linguistische Arbeiten Linguistic Studies comprising over 500 volumes has made a significant contribution to the development of linguistic theory both in Germany and internationally The series will continue to deliver new impulses for research and maintain the central insight of linguistics that progress can only be made in acquiring new knowledge about human languages both synchronically and diachronically by closely combining empirical and theoretical analyses To this end we invite submission of high quality linguistic studies from all the central areas of general linguistics and the linguistics of individual languages which address topical questions discuss new data and advance the development of linguistic theory

Icelandic Morphosyntax and Argument Structure Jim Wood, 2015-01-05 This book provides a detailed study of Icelandic argument structure alternations within a syntactic theory of argument structure Building on recent theorizing within the Minimalist Program and Distributed Morphology the author proposes that much of what is traditionally attributed to syntax should be relegated to the interfaces and adapts the late insertion theory of morphology to semantics The resulting system forms sound meaning pairs by generating hierarchical structures that can be translated into morphological representations on the one hand and semantic representations on the other The syntactic primitives however underdetermine both morphophonology and semantics Without appealing to special stipulations the theory derives constraints on the external argument of causative alternation verbs interpretive restrictions on nominative objects and the optionally agentive interpretation of verbs denoting self directed motion
