Peace By Forceful Means A Special Issue Of Peace And Conflict:

Peace by Forceful Means? Milton Schwebel, 1999-03 Taken together this collection of papers studies the question do we have the capability to live in a world that will resolve its differences by peaceful means or is violence just an incontrovertible fact of every day life Even as we struggle to achieve the civilized status of using peaceful means to maintain the peace we must not deny the grim realities of life today This varied group of articles contributes to this important and ongoing debate Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding Roger Mac Ginty, 2024-08-20 This updated and revised second edition of the Routledge Handbook of Peacebuilding contains cutting edge analyses of contemporary attempts to reach and sustain peace The book covers the main actors and dynamics of peacebuilding as well as the main challenges that it faces with accessible chapters The volume is comprehensive covering everything from the main international institutions for peacebuilding to the links between peacebuilding and climate change or peacebuilding and trauma It is also firmly interdisciplinary with a number of chapters devoted to showcasing how different disciplines interpret peacebuilding and how they contribute to it Bringing together leading thinkers and practitioners on peacebuilding many from the Global South the handbook offers a valuable hands on perspective on how peace can be secured and sustained There is a significant emphasis on comparison and the book shows how peacebuilding is best examined from the vantage point of multiple cases The book is organised into six thematic sections Part I Architecture and Actors Part II Reading Peacebuilding Part III Issues and Approaches Part IV Violence and Security Part V Everyday Living Part VI Disciplinary Approaches This book will be essential reading for students of peacebuilding mediation and post conflict reconstruction and of great interest to students of statebuilding intervention civil wars conflict resolution war and conflict studies and IR in general Chapter 25 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Conflicting Objectives in Democracy Promotion Julia Leininger, Sonja Grimm, Tina Freyburg, 2017-07-05 The agenda of external actors often includes a number of objectives that do not necessarily and automatically go together Fostering security and stability in semi authoritarian regimes collides with policies aimed at the support of processes of democratization prone to conflict and destabilization Meanwhile the promotion of national self determination and political empowerment might lead to forms of democracy partially incompatible with liberal understandings These conflicting objectives are often problematized as challenges to the effectiveness of international democracy promotion This book presents systematic research about their emergence and effects The contributing authors investigate post conflict societies developing countries and authoritarian regimes in Southeast Europe Latin America Africa and Asia They identify the socio economic and political conditions in the recipient country the interaction between international and local actors and the capacity of international and local actors as relevant for explaining the emergence of conflicting objectives And they empirically show that faced with conflicting objectives donors either use a wait and see approach i e not to act to overcome such conflicts they prioritize security state building and development over democracy or they compromise democracy promotion with other goals However convincing strategies for dealing with such conflicts still need to be devised This book was published as a special issue of Democratization Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991 Religious and Theological Abstracts ,1987 Communist International Special Issue on the Twentieth Anniversary of the Soviet Union ,1938 Legitimising the Use of Force in International Politics Corneliu Bjola,2009-09-10 This book aims to examine the conditions under which the decision to use force can be reckoned as legitimate in international relations Drawing on communicative action theory it provides a provocative answer to the hotly contested question of how to understand the legitimacy of the use of force in international politics The use of force is one of the most critical and controversial aspects of international politics Scholars and policy makers have long tried to develop meaningful standards capable of restricting the use of force to a legally narrow yet morally defensible set of circumstances However these standards have recently been challenged by concerns over how the international community should react to gross human rights abuses or to terrorist threats This book argues that current legal and moral standards on the use of force are unable to effectively deal with these challenges The author argues that the concept of deliberative legitimacy understood as the non coerced commitment of an actor to abide by a decision reached through a process of communicative action offers the most appropriate framework for addressing this problem The theoretical originality and empirical value of the concept of deliberative legitimacy comes fully into force with the examination of two of the most severe international crises from the post Cold War period the 1999 NATO intervention in Kosovo and the 2003 US military action against Iraq This book will be of much interest to students of international security ethics international law discourse theory and IR Corneliu Bjola is SSHRC Postdoctoral Fellow with the Centre for Ethics at the University of Toronto and has a PhD in International Relations A Subject Index to Current Literature Australian Public Affairs Information Service, Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1997 The Nirex Collection: Of war and peace ,1993 Building a Peace System Robert A. Irwin,1989 Arms Control & Disarmament ,1970 Documentation Sur la Recherche Féministe ,1990 Intercom ,1963 Work in Progress ,1985 A review of research activities of the United Nations University Peace Research Abstracts Journal ,2002 The Catholic Worker ,1964 Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1999 Ethics in Education ,1982 Lumea ,1978
