Long-Term Conflict Prevention and Industrial Development Ralf Bredel, 2003 After decades of striving to prevent international conflict major armed conflicts in the 1990s have taken place within national boundaries After the series of national independence wars in the 1950s and 1960s and frequent geopolitical wars in the 1970s and 1980s a category of wars of the third kind prevailed The aim of this book is to consider the root causes of recent internal conflicts and to develop long term conflict prevention strategies from here New insights suggest the central role of politico economic inequalities in ethnic religious and cultural conflict The United Nations system has just started to adjust to this new reality of conflict and make long term conflict prevention a priority issue on international agendas Whereas development practitioners should principally conceive their work through a conflict prevention lens there is a shift in focus to United Nations agencies that deal with the economic characteristics of conflict The unbroken significance of a sustainable industrial development process in developing countries may allow the United Nations Industrial Development Organization UNIDO a particular vantage point and role in the long term prevention of conflict

The Art of Conflict Prevention Werner Bauwens, Luc Reyckers, 1994 This study examines the ways in which the great international organizations of the Western world the UN CSCE NATO the EC and WEU should be seeking to work in co operation to stem the flood of turmoil that characterizes the post Cold War world and may even threaten the very existence of the present security community

Rethinking Peace and Security Paula Duarte Lopes, Stephen Villanueva Ryan, 2009-01-01 During ten days in July 2008 around fifty students and a dozen professors from twelve different European universities met at the University of Coimbra for the Fifth Intensive Seminar of the European Doctorate Enhancement Programme on Peace and Conflict EDEN and discussed the new dimensions of peace and security studies Their contributions reflect the research agendas of a new generation who continue to address enduring themes in peace and conflict studies but whose formative influences are those of a complex post Cold War world      Afrika Jahrbuch 1996 Institut für Afrika-Kunde, Rolf Hofmeier, 2013-03-09      Handbook of Regional Conflict Resolution Initiatives in the Global South Jeronimo Delgado-Caicedo, 2022-07-28 During the first half of the twentieth century the international system was largely dominated by the USA and the colonial powers of western Europe After the two world wars the political and economic dominance of these states guaranteed them and their allies an almost complete control of world politics However as it is the norm in the international system power structures are not immutable After the end of the Cold War rapid changes to the existing international hierarchies took place as new countries from the so called developing world began to emerge as crucial actors capable of questioning and altering the power dynamics of the world It is therefore unthinkable to ignore emerging countries such as Russia the People's Republic of China India Brazil or South Africa in the decision making process in today's world order In addition there is a group of smaller yet increasingly important countries that while acknowledging their inability radically to change the rules of the international system are still eager to shift power relations and enhance their influence in the world Argentina Colombia Egypt Indonesia Iran South Korea Mexico Nigeria Pakistan Saudi Arabia Turkey and Vietnam are generally recognised as part of this grouping of emerging powers from the Global South While there is a consensus amongst academics that emerging powers from the Global South must have a stabilising role within their own regions previous analyses have focused primarily on the impact that emerging powers have had in their own regions conflict resolution initiatives This volume instead aims to go beyond these analyses and provide new insights regarding the effect that this stabilising role has on the continental and global positioning of emerging powers In other words this book explores the relation between a country's involvement in conflict resolution initiatives and its positioning in the international system The volume will contribute to this approach using the perspective of academics and practitioners from countries of the Global South particularly from states that have strengthened or sometimes weakened their position in the international hierarchy of power through a leading role in regional conflict resolution initiatives      Conflict Prevention in the UN's Agenda 2030

Bertrand Ramcharan, Robin Ramcharan, 2020-01-27 This book analyses the UN's Agenda 2030 and reveals that progress is lagging on all five interlocking and interdependent themes that are discussed conflict prevention development peace justice and human rights Many voices have already been raised including that of the UN Secretary General that the Sustainable Development Goals will not be met by 2030 unless there is a re-doubling of efforts Still on development as such there is much striving The book puts the concept of preventive diplomacy into all of the issues of modern international relations from the US China confrontation to the various conflicts bedeviling Africa It bridges the two worlds of the international relations specialist on the one hand and that of the academic interested in UN affairs on the other hand There is normally little contact between those two specializations The authors have taken several current issues to show how the millennium debates and the SDG targets are relevant to realist school conflicts and that there is work under way to operationalize ideas and theories in this respect This is the first ever discussion of the conflict prevention dimension in the UN s Agenda 2030 which seeks to advance sustainable development with a view to reinforcing peace and justice on the foundations of respect for universal human rights

Piracy and Maritime Terrorism: Logistics, Strategies, Scenarios Silvia Ciotti Galletti, 2012-04-15 For much of history pirates and buccaneers constituted one of the most serious threats to maritime activities all over the world More recently apart from adventure stories and swashbuckling films maritime piracy was largely thought of as a thing of the past This began to change in 1994 when an article in the Far Eastern Economic Review drew public attention to the renaissance of a phenomenon piracy was back and it was becoming increasingly violent involving huge ships in international waters This book is based on the proceedings of the NATO Advanced Research Workshop held in 2009 in Lisbon Portugal Its main purpose was to promote dialogue on the phenomenon of maritime piracy between international policymakers law enforcement officers port authorities and other professionals and to provide a response to the need for research and analysis at an international level on maritime piracy and its connection to terrorism The book does not simply report on the proceedings of the workshop but also includes some new topics not covered by the ARW and is organized in three sections new methodological approaches to maritime threats new threats and new challenges in piracy and maritime terrorism and lastly some selected case studies different threats different solutions The book offers qualified ideas opinions and talking points to the international practitioner community will foster debate and help law enforcement agencies and policymakers to face the new world wide maritime threats of piracy and terrorism

Conflicts in the Middle East and Africa Moosa Elayah, Bakeel Alzandani, 2024-03-21 This book explores the multifaceted dynamics between state and non state actors in public policy during and after conflict in the Middle East and Africa It offers case studies and policy relevant ideas for conflict affected areas to move forward in a more sustainable manner Following the Arab Spring revolutions civil wars have plagued the Middle East and North Africa region along with other countries in Africa The task of rebuilding peace and institutionalizing stability in conflict affected countries or fragile states emerging from conflict is a daunting uncertain and context specific task Yet focusing on understanding conflicts in the Middle East and Africa offers an important view of the role of non state actors during conflicts These regions feature the highest numbers of inter and intra state conflicts and the governments are more often contested than in the rest of the world The volume proposes different cases addressing the fundamental challenge of inclusion and cohesion of nonstate actors during conflicts By providing a comprehensive exploration of diverse perspectives it empowers readers to engage with the pressing issues facing these regions This is a useful resource for students and researchers in public policy and governance studies development studies and NGOs and Middle East and African Studies

The Civil Society Guide to Regional Economic Communities in Africa Morris Odhiambo, Rudy Chitiga, 2016-03-02 Since 1963 when the African integration project was born regional Economic Communities RECs have been an indispensable part of the continents deeper socioeconomic and political integration More than half a century later such regional institutions continue to evolve keeping pace with an Africa that is transforming itself amid challenges and opportunities RECs represent a huge potential to be the engines that drive the continents economic growth and development as well as being vehicles through which a sense of a continental community is fostered It is critical therefore that citizens understand the multi faceted and bureaucratic operations of regional institutions in order to use them to advance their collective interests

Early Warning and Conflict Prevention Klaas van Walraven,2024-01-15 The end of the cold war did not begin an era of world peace The forces of marginalization civil war and genocide have uprooted whole societies in Africa the Balkans and the Caucasus In fact the end of superpower competition means that the world now lacks external actors powerful enough to intervene successfully in local conflicts The early 1990s saw the beginning of a search for possibilities for conflict prevention This work is one of the first to set the analysis of early warning and conflict prevention firmly in the context of the changes and continuities in the structures of post Cold War politics Early Warning and Conflict Prevention proceeds from the position that sufficient early warning could enable governments and international organizations to intervene at an early stage rather than waiting until disputes erupt into violence It analyses the theoretical and practical complexities of timely warning and effective response in conflict resolution It also investigates the extent to which conflict prevention has become a concrete element in the policies of governments non governmental organizations and international organizations The result of an international symposium on early warning and conflict prevention in November 1996 this work examines this significant issue in international relations within the unique political framework of post Cold War developments making it an important resource for academics policymakers government officials and others interested in the present and future state of conflict resolution
