Conflict Resolution Nahla Yassine-Hamdan, Frederic Pearson, 2014-07-11 This book examines Arab approaches to mediation negotiation and settlement of political disputes This book proposes that two clusters of independent variables are potentially responsible for the distinctive nature of Arab conflict resolution Firstly those linked with Arab political regimes and imperatives and secondly those linked with Arab and or Islamic culture The text also focuses on the Arab League and its history of involvement in crisis and conflict situations along with the roles of individual leaders emissaries and extra regional actors such as IGOs Inter Governmental Organisations in undertaking mediation initiatives IGO and Arab League activity has taken on new importance since the various intervention attempts in connection with the Arab Spring since 2011 During the negotiation process most Arab regimes tend to view conflicts within a broad historical context and Islamic culture prioritises the cohesion of the community and internal stability of the state over individual autonomy This has created an authoritarian style of leadership and in practice leaders in the Middle East have had near absolute authority in the decision making process a fact which will have a lot of weight in conflict management and whether peace will endure for a long period of time This book is unique in studying these clusters through comparative systematic case study analysis of events prior to and subsequent to the Arab Spring augmented by a quantitative analysis of sample data on Arab disputes compiled from a larger and newly augmented study comprising the years 1945 2000 Complementary data from the Uppsala Conflict Data Program s UCDP data base of armed conflicts since 1975 is also utilized This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace and conflict studies Middle Eastern politics and IR in general Islam and Peacebuilding Ishan

Yilmaz, 2013-02-27 The exploration of the contributions is made with regards to the title in hand by the thought and practice of the global movement associated with the Turkish Muslim scholar Fethullah Gulen The importance and distinctiveness of teaching of Gulen and the practice of the movement is that it is rooted in a confident Turkish Islamic heritage while being fully engaged with modernity It offers the possibility of a contextualised renewal of Islam for Muslims in the modern world while being fully rooted in the teachings of the Qur'an and the Sunnah of the Prophet It advocates the freedom of religion while making an Islamic contribution to the wider society based on a commitment to service of others Peace on Earth

Thomas Matyók, Maureen Flaherty, Hamdesa Tusso, Jessica Senehi, Sean Byrne, 2013-12-16 Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies provides a critical analysis of faith and religious institutions in peacebuilding practice and pedagogy The work captures the synergistic relationships among faith traditions and how multiple approaches to conflict transformation and peacebuilding result in a creative process that has the potential to achieve a more detailed view of peace on earth containing breadth as well as depth Library and bookstore shelves are filled with critiques of the negative impacts of religion in conflict scenarios Peace on Earth The Role of Religion in Peace and Conflict Studies offers an alternate view that suggests religious organizations play a more complex role in conflict than a simply negative one Faith based organizations and their workers are often found on the frontlines of conflict throughout the world conducting conflict management and resolution activities as well as advancing peacebuilding initiatives

Islamic Approaches to Conflict Resolution and Peace Abdul Aziz Said, Nathan C. Funk, Ayse S. Kadayifci, 2002-02-12 Within the Muslim community the call for peace has manifested and will undoubtedly continue to manifest itself in diverse ways This reflects continuous efforts to interpret and apply foundational Islamic values in specific historical social and cultural situations Islamic concepts of peace have been misrepresented misunderstood or simply ignored There are indeed differences between prevailing Western and Islamic conceptions of peace These differences constitute a basis for an ongoing dialogue on the topic Beneath different interpretations of Islam there is an underlying unity of intention that gives coherence to various approaches to peace These in Islam can be categorized in five paradigms Many Muslims have at one time or another subscribed to views that incorporate aspects of more than one paradigm The model of power politics exalts state authority views peace simply as the absence of war and emphasizes the political necessities created by threatening environments The Islamic world order approach sees peace as a condition defined by the presence of such core Islamic values as order justice equity cultural coexistence as in the Iranian Dialogue of Civilizations initiative and ecological stability Practitioners of Islamic approaches to conflict resolution adhere to a restorative conception of peace that encompasses notions of just compensation for losses renunciation of retribution and forgiveness Though it is not widely recognized an Islamic paradigm for nonviolence does in fact exist and some of the most notable recent applications of it have occurred in South and Southeast Asia Peace is understood as the presence of social justice which must be sought by a just means The last approach to peace the Islamic equivalent of a transformational spiritually centered paradigm defines peace as a condition of harmony attained through the transformation of human consciousness The dominant Western approach to peace finds its substance in political pluralism individual rights and in practice if not in precept consumerism In contrast Islamic precepts permit a view of peace based on communal solidarity social justice faith and cultural pluralism The differences between Western and Islamic approaches to conflict resolution reflect some of the differences between these two respective perspectives on peace While the strongest Western approach to conflict resolution is to conceptualize and solve problems the Islamic approach emphasizes the mending and maintenance of social relationships Muslims see conflict and competition between individuals and groups as a threat to social unity stability and welfare and are often somewhat less optimistic about conflict than the advocates of new Western approaches Research and dialogue on conceptions of peace and peacemaking provide an alternative to the solipsism of culture bound thinking They can promote a deeper understanding of cross cultural differences and a greater appreciation of the shared values and goals that will be needed if true coexistence and perhaps even intercultural complementarity is to be achieved

Islam and Peacemaking in the Middle East begins with a set of provocative questions How for example do Muslims conceive of peace To what degree do differences in the interpretation of Islam affect the ways in which peace is sought in the contemporary Middle East Through analysis of regional trends and case studies the authors explore various Islamic ideas of peace and their bearing on difficult ethnic nationalist and civic conflicts The result widens the parameters for serious discussion of Islam s contributions real and potential to ongoing negotiations The authors explore varying Islamic conceptions of peace and their bearing on ethnic nationalist and civil conflicts in the contemporary Middle East

World Encyclopaedia of Interfaith Studies: Global interfaith movement ,2009 Standing on an Isthmus Ayse S. Kadayifci,2007-09-09

Standing on an Isthmus explores the role of religion particularly Islam in the Israeli Palestinian conflict as a factor both motivating the conflict and as a potential resource for its resolution It examines how religious beliefs commitments and traditions shape and influence concrete social action such as promoting either violent or peaceful behavior and focuses on the legitimation process of religious narratives More specifically it looks at different Islamic interpretations of war and peace within the Islamic tradition and investigates why an extremist interpretation is becoming more accepted among Palestinians as a response to the conflict Standing on an Isthmus has become particularly important in the post September 11 era when the relationship between violence and religion in general and Islam in particular became a central concern for scholars and politicians Other horrific acts such as the 2002 Bali bombings and 2004 Beslan School Siege have also significantly contributed to the image of Islam as a violent religion Standing on an Isthmus examines the internal dialogue that rages among Islamic scholars for the correct interpretation of Islam sheds light on why Islamic extremism has come to be accepted as a strategic tool among some Islamic groups and investigates the role of social institutions and civil society networks utilized by different groups in the process of legitimizing their interpretation Consequently it addresses a series of new topics for conflict resolution studies including religious and pragmatic motivations of behavior struggle between moral values multi faith dialogue and pluralism as conflict resolution strategies and the socio political impact of leadership legitimation and the role of interpretation of sacred texts during conflicts among others Moreover it seeks to answer the questions how can we utilize religion in this case Islam as a resource for peacemaking and what is the best strategy to empower those groups and indi Journal of the Henry Martyn Institute ,2003 Encyclopedia of Violence, Peace, & Conflict Lester R.
