Diversity in America Vincent N. Parrillo, 2009 Offers both a sociohistorical perspective and a sociological analysis to provide insights into U S diversity Parrillo addresses topics that generate more passionate invective and raucous debate than all others in American society today Is multiculturalism a threat to us Should immigration be more closely controlled Are we no longer sufficiently American and why Parrillo uses history and sociology to shed light on socially constructed myths about our past misunderstandings from our present and anxieties about our future From publisher description

Fresh Blood Sanford J. Ungar, 1995 Drawing on hundreds of richly textured interviews conducted from one end of the country to the other veteran journalist Sanford J Ungar documents the real life struggles and triumphs of America's newest immigrants He finds that the self chosen who arrive every day most of them legally still enrich our national character and experience and make invaluable political economic social cultural and even gastronomic contributions First class journalism a book scholars will use decades from now to find out what it felt like to be an immigrant in the 90s I do not know of a better description and analysis of contemporary immigration Roger Daniels author of Coming to America A History of Immigration and Ethnicity in American Life An excellent overview of contemporary immigration issues set within the context of developments in the past fifty years Ungar makes a strong case for the contributions of recent immigrants and for maintaining a relatively open door in the face of sometimes shrill opposition Thomas Dublin editor of Immigrant Voices New Lives in America Exactly the right book at the right time Ungar looks at the national controversy over immigration policy with a clear eye producing a history and a convincing argument why this is no time to reverse a liberal welcome to newcomers that has always in good times and bad made this a better and more prosperous democracy Ben H Bagdikian author of Double Vision
