Peacemaking In International Conflict:

Peacemaking in International Conflict I. William Zartman, 2007 This updated and expanded edition of the highly popular volume originally published in 1997 describes the tools and skills of peacemaking that are currently available and critically assesses their usefulness and limitations

Understanding International Conflict Management Charity Butcher, Maia Carter Hallward, 2019-11-28 This new textbook introduces key mechanisms and issues in international conflict management and engages students with a comprehensive interdisciplinary approach to mitigating managing and transforming international conflicts The volume identifies key historical events and international agreements that have shaped and defined the field of international conflict management as well as key dilemmas facing the field at this juncture The first section provides an overview of key mechanisms for international conflict management such as negotiation mediation nonviolent resistance peacekeeping peacebuilding transitional justice and reconciliation The second section tackles important cross cutting themes such as technology religion the economy refugees and migration and the role of civil society examining how these issues contribute to international conflicts and how they can be leveraged to help address such conflicts Each chapter includes a brief historical overview of the evolution of the issue or mechanism identifies key theoretical and practical debates and includes case studies discussion questions website links and suggested further reading for further study and engagement By providing a mixture of theory and practical examples this textbook provides students with the necessary background to navigate this interdisciplinary field This volume will be of great interest to students of international conflict management conflict resolution peace studies and international relations in general

International Negotiation and Mediation in Violent Conflict Chester A. Crocker, Fen Osler Hampson, Pamela Aall, 2018-02-06 This collection of essays situates the study and practice of international mediation and peaceful settlement of disputes within a changing global context The book is organized around issues of concern to practitioners including the broader regional global and institutional context of mediation and how this broader environment shapes the opportunities and prospects for successful mediation A major theme is complexity and how the complex contemporary context presents serious challenges to mediation This environment describes a world where great power rivalries and politics are coming back into play and international and regional organizations are playing different roles and facing different kinds of constraints in the peaceful settlement of disputes The first section discusses the changing international environment for conflict management and reflects on some of the challenges that this changing environment raises for addressing conflict Part II focuses on the consequences of bringing new actors into third party engagement and examines what may be harbingers for how we will attempt to resolve conflict in the future The third section turns to the world of practice and discusses mediation statecraft and how to employ it in this current international environment The volume aims to situate the practice and study of mediation within this wider social and political context to better understand the opportunities and constraints of mediation in today's world. The value of the book lies in its focus on complex and serious issues that challenge both mediators and scholars. This volume will be of much interest to students, practitioners, and policymakers in the area of international negotiation, mediation, conflict resolution, and international relations. The Era of Private Peacemakers Marko Lehti, 2018-07-07. The field of peacemaking is in turbulent change. There are more peacemaking actors than before, but fewer success stories, and an increasing number of violent conflicts tend to resist negotiated agreements. Tools and practices created for traditional inter and intra state conflicts have become ineffective, and revision of old mediation practices is called for. This book examines how the private peacemaking organisations have faced this challenge. In the 21st century, private peacemakers have become a central part of peace diplomacy and have appeared as flexible actors whose innovative thinking paves the way for reconsidering and reinventing old practices of mediation. Instead of emphasizing the act of resolution, a new emphasis is given to the transformation of violence into a peace system, the complexity of conflict, and the inadequateness of rational management. Furthermore, this shift has brought civic society actors from the field of reconciliation to the field of peace mediation. This new pragmatic approach under development can be called dialogic mediation.

Turbulent Peace Chester A. Crocker, Fen Osler Hampson, Pamela R. Aall, 2001. This text explores the sources of contemporary conflict and the many possible responses to it. The authors' 50 analysts of international affairs present multiple perspectives on how best to prevent, manage, or resolve conflicts around the world.

International Multiparty Mediation and Conflict Management Sinisa Vukovic, 2015-10-05. This volume aims to provide a detailed explanation of the effects of cooperation and coordination on international multiparty mediation in conflicts. Contemporary scholarship stresses that the crucial ingredients for a successful multiparty mediation are consistency in interests and cooperation and coordination between mediators. This book seeks to supplement that understanding by investigating how much the consistency of interests and cooperation and coordination affect the overall process and what happens to the mediation process when mediating parties do not share the same idea and interest in finding a common solution. At the same time, it explores the obstacles in achieving coordination and coherence between various mediators in such an environment and how to surmount the problems that multiple mediators face when operating without a common script in attempting to mediate a negotiated settlement. The study investigates three distinct mechanisms, both on the systemic and contextual level, that have the potential to deter defection from a potential member of the multiparty mediation coalition: geopolitical shifts, changes in the conflict dynamics, and mediators' ability to bargain for a cooperative relationship. As the number of states and international actors that are involved in mediation increases, a careful assessment is necessary, not only of their relative institutional strengths and weaknesses, but also of how to promote complementary efforts and how to synchronize the whole process when one actor is transferring the responsibilities for mediation to others. This book will be of much interest to students of mediation, conflict management, war and conflict studies, security studies, and IR. The Open Access version of this

Bakia, 2023-08-22 Attempting to pacify the emergent wars in the 1990s the European Union mediation could not stop the vast destruction and prevent genocide from taking place right next door to the EU the world's biggest peace project In the 21st century the Western Balkans region has again become a subject of testing the EU's new foreign policy instrument mediation This time the EU assumed the role of a post conflict mediator aiming to sustainably resolve the intractable conflicts in the post war setting of the region While its first mediations in the former Yugoslavia were unsuccessful the EU's recent mediation attempts in the post violent stage of the Balkans conflicts have resulted in varied outcomes Introducing a new model this book explains the varying effectiveness of EU mediation in post conflict and analyses the determining conditions of the EU mediation efficiency in post conflict settings The book is among the few publications that shed light on EU mediation utilized as an instrument of conflict resolution that aims to solve protracted conflicts in post conflict settings

Peacebuilding and Dialogue Mohammed Abu-Nimer, Renáta Katalin Nelson, 2021-09-20 In the emerging fields of religious and interreligious peacebuilding the question of monitoring and evaluation is a challenging yet necessary process The need to develop comprehensive yet fitting evaluation models for religious and interreligious peacebuilding is not only important for donor interests but also critical as a means of documenting and learning for peacebuilders themselves Theories and best practices in monitoring and evaluation have become prevalent in many fields yet the amount of literature on evaluating intercultural and especially religious and interreligious projects remains scant in comparison This volume offers a unique contribution that not only looks at several of the challenges and implications faced by religious and interreligious peacebuilders but also provides concrete examples of new models and tools for monitoring and evaluating religious and interreligious peacebuilding projects In doing so this volume serves as a tool and point of reference for individuals and organizations developing and implementing interreligious dialogue and peacebuilding projects Christian Peacemaking & International Conflict Duane K.
