Peacemaking Moral And Policy Challenges For A New World:

Peacemaking Gerard F. Powers, Drew Christiansen, Robert T. Hennemeyer, 1994 Written from varying ideological perspectives but united in a concern for the application of moral values to international relations this is a provocative and timely contribution to debate about the current and future course of foreign policy from back cover

Boundaries and Justice Sohail H. Hashmi, David Miller, 2021-05-11 Despite the supreme political and economic significance of boundaries and ongoing challenges to existing national boundaries scant attention has been paid to their ethics This volume explores how diverse ethical traditions understand the political and property rights reflected in territorial and jurisdictional boundaries It is the first book to bring together thinkers from a range of traditions both religious and secular to discuss the ethics of boundaries Each contributor represents a tradition s views on questions surrounding the use of boundaries to delimit property and political rights What does it mean to own something What resources should not be privately owned What justifies the erection of political boundaries between one people and another How hard should such boundaries be What rights extend to minorities within a state Should territorial boundaries coincide with social ones Does national autonomy have an ethical basis or is it an aspect of modern power politics Should we aim for a more inclusive community than that afforded by modern nation states Cross chapter dialogue and a substantive conclusion draw out similarities and differences among the traditions represented traditions that include Christianity classical liberalism Confucianism international law Islam Judaism liberal egalitarianism and natural law In addition to the editors the contributors are Nigel Biggar Joseph Boyle Joseph Chan Russell Hardin Will Kymlicka Loren Lomasky Robert McCorquodale Richard B Miller David Novak Sulayman Nyang Michael Nylan Raul C Pangalangan Daniel Philpott Jeremy Rabkin Hillel Steiner M Raquibuz Zaman and Noam J Zohar

Serve and Protect Tobias Winright, 2020-11-13 This collection of essays on policing and the use of force while written over the course of the last twenty five years remains relevant and timely Although issues in policing and questions about excessive force and brutality have been addressed by criminologists sociologists philosophers and criminal justice ethicists only a handful of theological ethicists treat this pressing matter While the Christian moral tradition has a voluminous record of theological attention to violence and nonviolence war and peace there is a dearth of references to policing And most considerations of criminal justice issues by Christians and their churches concentrate on prison reform or abolition and the death penalty but not policing These essays authored by a theological ethicist possessing professional experience in law enforcement seek to fill this curious gap They offer a framework for moral reasoning concerning the justification for police use of force and the just application of such force and they propose just policing as a model that is consonant with promoting a just peace in communities and society In addition they explore the implications of such an approach for wider international questions about just war terrorism the responsibility to protect and post war justice
