Bettina Gransow,2025-07-23 This book starts from the assumption that there is no single path of migrant integration or incorporation into the megacity It then asks what kinds of migrant pathways into the Chinese megacity might be discovered by studying migrants own agency Based on over one hundred qualitative interviews conducted in the Pearl River Delta the micro studies in this volume show how different high risk migrant groups voluntary and involuntary blue collar and white collar internal and international connect to the megacity through their everyday routines and practices constituting and appropriating transient urban spaces It also examines the responsiveness of the Chinese government s migration policies from the perspective of these different migrant groups The study brings aspects of migration sociology and risk sociology into dialogue with each other and with urban China studies Linked to ideas of the global risk society and planetary urbanisation the study provides an empirical and theoretical building block beyond China s national development Its findings are expected to contribute to current debates on restricting or promoting migration to Chinese megacities Matrix ,1941
