H. Baker, 2004-03-18 The individualism of the French peasantry during the nineteenth century has frequently been asserted as one of its most striking characteristics In this 1999 book Alan Baker challenges this orthodox view and demonstrates the extent to which peasants continued with traditional and developed new forms of collective action He examines representations of the peasantry and discusses the discourse of fraternity in nineteenth century France in general before considering specifically the historical development geographical diffusion and changing functions of fraternal voluntary associations in Loir et Cher between 1815 and 1914 Alan Baker focuses principally upon associations aimed at reducing risk and uncertainty and upon associations intended to provide agricultural protection A wide range of new voluntary associations were established in Loir et Cher and indeed throughout rural France during the nineteenth century Their historical geography throws new light upon the sociability upon the changing mentalities of French peasants and upon the role of fraternal associations in their struggle for survival A Companion to the French Revolution Peter McPhee, 2014-12-15 A Companion to the French Revolution comprises twenty nine newly written essays reassessing the origins development and impact of this great turning point in modern history Examines the origins development and impact of the French Revolution Features original contributions from leading historians including six essays translated from French Presents a wide ranging overview of current historical debates on the revolution and future directions in scholarship Gives equally thorough treatment to both causes and outcomes of the French Revolution France, 1800-1914 Roger Magraw, 2014-07-22 Nineteenth century France was a society of apparent paradoxes It is famous for periodic and bloody revolutionary upheavals for class conflict and for religious disputes yet it was marked by relative demographic stability gradual urbanisation and modest economic change class conflict and ongoing religious and cultural tensions Incorporating much recent research Roger Magraw draws both upon still valuable insights derived from the new social history of the 1960s and upon more recent approaches suggested by gender history cultural anthropology and the linguistic turn

Nineteenth-Century Europe Michael Rapport, 2018-08-11 A core introductory textbook that provides students with an overview of the key issues in Europe's long nineteenth century from the French Revolution in 1789 until the outbreak of the First World War in 1914. Telling the story of how Europeans entered politics in the fiery trials of revolution and industrialization, the text opens with the French Revolution, passes through the crucible of the 1848 Revolutions, and ends with the emergence of mass movements: socialist, revolutionary, nationalist, and authoritarian, which anticipated those of the twentieth century. This is an ideal text for modules on Modern European History or Nineteenth Century Europe, which may be offered at all levels of an undergraduate History or European Studies degree. In addition, it is a crucial resource for students who may be studying nineteenth century Europe for the first time as part of a taught postgraduate degree in Modern History or European Studies.

The Peasantry Honoré de Balzac, 1896 France at War Sarah Fishman, 2000 This collection of essays uses as a starting point Robert O. Paxton's Vichy France: Old Guard and New Order, 1940-1944. It takes up where Paxton left off and shows how the last 25 years of scholarship have made problematic the tidy categories used to describe behaviour during the Vichy years. Examines ways in which scholars have analyzed their historical legacy.

Bibliographie internationale des recensions de la littérature savante, 1974 Comédie Humaine: The peasantry (Les paysans) 1896 Honoré de Balzac, 1896 Peasantry and Society in France Since 1789 Annie Moulin, 1991 France since the first Empire, by J. Macdonell, ed. by his wife (A.H. MacDonell). James Macdonell, 1879 Österreichische Zeitschrift für Volkskunde, 1992 International Review of Social History, 1998 The Ethnography of Time Matt Hodges, 2007 This book advances an anthropological understanding of time and history. Drawing on the philosophy of Henri Bergson and Gilles Deleuze and the work of anthropologists Alfred Gell and Nancy Munn, the author presents the carefully documented case for the importance of time studies to anthropology.

The Transformation of Modern France William B. Cohen, 1997 This anthology of essays describes the major forces that have transformed France in the two centuries since the Revolution. France Since the First Empire James Macdonell, Meredith Townsend, 1879 The Peasantry in the French Revolution Peter Jones, 1988-10-13 The contention of Georges Lefebvre that the peasantry occupied center stage during the early years of the Revolution is vindicated with the support of fresh evidence culled from archives unpublished theses and other sources
