thoughts on great truths, gathered by E. Davies Great thoughts, 1882 Ethical Addresses , 1895 A Symposium of Praise Timothy Johnson, 2005-03-07 Ten years after publishing his first collection of lyric poetry Odes I-III Horace 65 B.C. 8 B.C. returned to lyric and published another book of fifteen odes Odes IV. These later lyrics which praise Augustus the imperial family and other political insiders have often been treated more as propaganda than art. But in A Symposium of Praise Timothy Johnson examines the richly textured ambiguities of Odes IV that engage the audience in the communal or sympotic formulation of Horace's praise. Surpassing propaganda Odes IV reflects the finely nuanced and imaginative poetry of Callimachus rather than the traditions of Aristotelian and Ciceronian rhetoric which advise that praise should present commonly admitted virtues and vices. In this way Johnson demonstrates that Horace's application of competing perspectives establishes him as Pindar's rival. Johnson shows the Horatian panegyrist is more than a dependent poet representing only the desires of his patrons. The poet forges the panegyric agenda setting out the character of the praise its mode lyric and content both positive and negative and calls together a community to join in the creation and adaptation of Roman identities and civic ideologies. With this insightful reading A Symposium of Praise will be of interest to historians of the Augustan period and its literature and to scholars interested in the dynamics between personal expression and political power.
