E. K. Brown

Preaching Justice Ethnic And Cultural Perspectives:

Preaching Justice Christine Marie Smith, 1998 Before a word of justice or liberation can be preached the minister needs to understand what is oppressing a people In Preaching Justice eight persons offer a theological analysis of specific communities Kathy Black persons with disabilities Martin Brokenleg Native Americans Teresa Fry Brown African Americans Eleazar Fernandez Filipino Americans Justo Gonzalez Hispanics Eunjoo Mary Kim Korean Americans Stacy Offner Jews and Christine Marie Smith lesbian gay community More than mere reports the chapters bring us inside the circle of each community so that we can experience a portion of their life The act of doing theology is made concrete and personal as each author moves from elements of oppression to primary symbols of justice and liberation Preaching Promise withing the

Paradoxes of Life Len Hansen, 2019-01-01 Paradoxes have become characteristic of the world we live in poverty and privilege empire and oppression migration and enclaves seeking war and peace justice and injustice reconciliation and revenge During the 2016 Societas Homiletica annual conference held in South Africa these paradoxes served as a rediscovery of the calling of preachers to deliver the promise that lies within life s contradictions A divine promise brought forth by the grace of God and the gospel of Christ embodied in and through us by the Spirit of Christ This promise may take many forms and calls for discernment and often interrupts the status quos in surprising shocking ways It is a promise that interrupts in order to comfort Preaching and Social Issues Leah D. Schade, 2024-10-08 Preaching and Social Issues Tools and Tactics for Empowering Your Prophetic Voice equips preachers to craft sermons that help congregations talk about topics of public concern based on strong ethical biblical and theological foundations as well as prudent sermon strategies Informed by years of research with clergy and congregations Leah D Schade provides practical and pastoral guidance for preachers to find their prophetic voice for their context with integrity and wisdom Preaching and Social Issues offers an assessment tool for gauging risk and capacity for preaching about social issues and suggests three approaches Gentle Invitational and Robust This book includes case studies and sermons that illustrate different approaches for preaching about contemporary topics

The Suffering of Job and an Enfleshed Homiletic Amy McLaughlin-Sheasby, 2025-10-16 McLaughlin Sheasby engages with how suffering shapes theological imagination and the impact that the traumatic wounds of others has on preaching McLaughlin Sheasby uses the story of Job a man whose life has been destroyed for no reason as God admits in Job 2 3 to develop an enfleshed homiletic which problematizes God talk in the presence of radical suffering McLaughlin Sheasby argues that what Job needs are friends who are willing to see his wounds and bear faithful witness but that none of them are willing to transform their theological positions in order to speak truly about Job s situation In Job 42 7 God affirms Job in his truth telling while scolding the friends for their refusal to speak truly In this McLaughlin Sheasby finds a strong guiding principle for preachers the capacity to speak truly of God is dependent upon the capacity to speak truly of the suffering of others In other words the degree to which preachers can faithfully speak of God in this world depends upon willingness to be confronted and transformed by the wounds of others On this basis McLaughlin Sheasby proposes a theological and practical vision of preaching that is ethically responsive to those beyond the pulpit asking the question what does it look like for preachers to become faithful witnesses to the suffering of others

Beyond Rhetoric Samuel George Hines, Curtiss Paul DeYoung, 2011-04-01 In Beyond Rhetoric the late Samuel Hines and Curtiss DeYoung place reconciliation at the very center of God's agenda for humankind In so doing they provide both inspiration and guidance for faithful Christian living that embraces a passionate pursuit of reconciliation

Becoming a New Church Malcolm L. Warford, 2000 Since church membership has entered into a period of rapid decline the church is being challenged to renew and redefine itself and its ministries by liberating itself from past constraints and crafting new ways of being the church Becoming A New Church offers Malcolm Warford's well reasoned articulate reflections on what meeting this challenge means For Warford renewal is not a matter of restoring what already has been but being committed to thoughtful faith based innovation He invites us to think of ourselves as pilgrims in a community where there are no clearly marked road signs but where we have a shared memory of Jesus who made us free to live open to the world and its potential for transformation

The Politics of Worship William Johnson Everett, 1999 Everett offers a new way to examine the language and symbols of liturgy Acknowledging the important contributions that

Cochran,2000 Dakota Cross Bearer is the story of a remarkable man Harold S Jones a Dakota Indian who rose through the ranks of the Episcopal Church to become the first Native American bishop of a Christian church Born in 1909 and raised on the Santee Reservation in Nebraska Jones lost his parents at an early age and was adopted by his grandparents who brought him up as a Christian. Each year his family attended the Niobrara Convocation, a large gathering of Episcopalians drawn from all of the Siouan communities. Jones attended Seabury Western Seminary in Illinois. After graduating, he was assigned to a variety of Native American missions across the northern plains, including those at Wounded Knee, Oglala, and the Cheyenne River Reservation, as well as the Navajoland mission in the southwest. Despite encountering discrimination from within the Episcopal Church throughout his career, in 1971 he was elected suffragan bishop of the diocese of South Dakota. Jones's biography sheds light on the importance of Christianity for the Dakotas and other Native American peoples during the twentieth century. His story yields interesting insights into the history of twentieth-century missionary activity among Native Americans and illuminates instances of conflict and discrimination within the Episcopal Church, the processes of clerical training and testing, and the demands of constant relocation.
