analyses of Hélène Cixous's later fictions The Story of Jane Doe Jane Doe, 2003 On an August night in 1986 Jane Doe became the fifth reported woman raped by a sexual serial predator dubbed the Balcony Rapist. Even though the police had full knowledge of the rapist's modus operandi they made a conscious decision not to issue a warning to women in her neighbourhood. Jane Doe quickly realized that women were being used by the police as bait. The rapist was captured as a result of a tip received after she and a group of women distributed 2 000 posters alerting the community. During the criminal proceedings Jane Doe became the first raped woman in Ontario to secure her own legal representation allowing her to sit in on the hearings instead of out in the hall where victim witnesses are usually cloistered. As a result Jane heard details of the police investigation normally withheld from women in her position which revealed a shocking degree of police negligence and gender discrimination. When the rapist was convicted the comfort was cold. In 1987 Jane Doe sued the Metropolitan Police Force for negligence and charter violation. It took eleven long years before her civil case finally came to trial. The rest is history Core Concepts in Health Paul M. Insel, Walton T. Roth, 1991
