Schooling As A Ritual Performance:

Schooling as a Ritual Performance Peter McLaren, 1999 One of the most compelling ethnographies of school ever written Schooling as a Ritual Performance has for over a decade made its mark among educators sociologists and those seeking to understand the cultural meaning of classroom practices Written by one of the major world figures on the educational left Schooling as a Ritual Performance is a pioneering study of the partnership between capitalism and religion and the educational offspring it produces Not since Paul Willis Learning to Labor has an educational ethnography about schooling so pushed the limits of current social theory Now in a new edition to this classic text McLaren engages with some of the latest anthropological thinking and presents readers with a powerful manifesto for critical ethnography in the coming millennium

Schooling as a Ritual Performance Peter McLaren, 1999 Written by one of the major world figures on the educational left Schooling as a Ritual Performance is a pioneering study of the partnership between capitalism and religion and the educational offspring it produces Towards Critical Environmental Education Aristotelis S. Gkiolmas, Constantine D. Skordoulis, 2020-11-03 This volume discusses theory philosophy praxis and methods in Environmental and Ecological education and considers the junction with the main visions and issues of Critical Pedagogy The volume and its separate chapters address four axes which can also be seen as the guidelines of the content as well as the central objectives of the book The first axis concerns the missing theoretical and practical pieces at this point in time The volume considers the issues that are not included in contemporary Environmental Education and thus deprive it from critical orientations This implies that in Environmental Education very little discussion exists about the political economic racial gender and class issues that in most cases govern the actions of leaders and stake holders The second axis concerns what has been done so far and in what directions This involves descriptions of theoretical approaches or actual applied methodologies in the classroom such as curricula or syllabus used or the kind of actions certain educators have taken to infuse the issues of justice and critical reflection within the Environmental Education teaching agenda The third axis examines proposals It looks at ways to enrich domains of Environmental Education with the argumentations of Critical Pedagogy The fourth axis concerns the way in which proposals can be effectuated This part contains specific methodologies and teaching sequences depicting ways of including major aspects of Critical Pedagogy and Critical Education in Environmental Education Examples are Non anthropocentric ecological approaches in the classroom political activism in the Curricula mixture of field activities and political activities

Teaching Ritual Catherine Bell, 2007-05-11 There is a great deal of interest in bringing a better appreciation of ritual into religious studies classes but many teachers are uncertain how to go about doing this Religious studies faculty know how to teach texts but they are often unprepared to teach something for which the meaning lies in the doing How much doing should a class do How does the teacher talk about religious concepts that exist in practical relationships not textual descriptions These practical issues also give rise to theoretical questions Giving more attention to ritual effectively suggests a reinterpretation of religion itself focused on what people have thought and written and more focused on how they order their universe Much of the useful analysis of ritual derives from anthropological and sociological premises which are often foreign to religious studies faculty and are seen by some as theologically problematic This is the first resource to address the issues specific to teaching this subject A stellar cast of contributors who teach ritual in a wide variety of courses and settings explain what has worked for them in the classroom what hasn't and what they've learned from experience Their voices range from personal to formal and their topics from Japanese theatre to using field trips The result is a thoughtful guide for teachers who are new to the subject as well as experienced ones looking for fresh angles and approaches Rituals, Ceremonies, and Cultural Meaning in Higher Education Kathleen Manning, 2000-05-30 Manning explores the reasons why colleges and universities across the nation often carry on the same traditions within their social structure including inauguration ceremonies of presidents and chancellors establishing days which recognize the founding of the institution and myth making behind the founding itself and how types of behaviors protests initiation rites honors ceremonies religious displays are similarly conducted Politische Bildung bei Antonio Gramsci und Paulo Freire Peter Mayo, 2006

Introduction to the Philosophies of Research and Criticism in Education and the Social Sciences James L. Paul, 2005 This rigorous volume focuses on the underlying perspectives justifying the major approaches currently being used in educational research Introductory chapters lay the foundation for exploring varying research perspectives Nine specific perspectives on research post positivism pragmatism constructivism ethics and deliberate democracy criticism interpretivism race ethnicity gender arts based research and post structuralism are examined through discussions written by senior scholars known for their expertise in the perspective And a guided tour of criticism is given in which these same scholars demonstrate the use of the critical method by critiquing six studies selected as exemplars of different research approaches For education students who aspire to become researchers and for those who simply need to read and understand research literature Between the Masks Diane DuBose Brunner, 1998 Between the Masks articulates a study of representation and the politics of place through a pedagogy of narrative performing inquiry and a critical reflection on identity As a resistance to essentialist politics the text focuses on the identity making marking role of cultural materials in the recovery of different and overdetermined histories It proposes a multicultural revision of knowledge that displaces the binarisms of insider outside rather than simply shifting the margin to the center By combining perspectives that produce strong readings with a semiotic method of analysis the essentialist representations of racial ethnic sexual and class biases will be revealed as strategies of power that employ appearance in their seduction By this method Brunner suggests a view of reflexive performance that seeks not to legitimate but to critique displace and liberate these illusions of identity Between the Masks promotes critical teaching that can bring together the literary the historic the theoretical and the sociological Brunner suggests the combined study of cultural studies and education as a theoretical and pedagogical site which embraces
