Ratios on Long Term Credit Ratings Swen Beyer,2010-12 Master s Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Investment and Finance grade 2 0 Reutlingen University Business Administration language English abstract The global financial and economic crises resulted for many corporations in a downgraded credit rating within the last 2 to 3 years Even a large percentage of them defaulted on their credit obligations due to inherent operational factors The importance of credit ratings will play an even more central role under the currently discussed New Basel Capital Accord Basel III Standard Basel III For Global Banks The purpose of this research is to explore the relationship between long term credit ratings and selected financial ratios that can be derived by public information Such information can be very valuable for companies in order to have a slight control over their credit rating obtained by rating agencies as well as in negotiations with banks and other outside creditors The research design is based on three automotive manufacturers and involves their credit rating over the last decade The data for the financial ratios was collected from respective financial statements The study is based on a correlation and multiple regression analysis using the MINITAB Minitab Data Analysis Software Pennsylvania USA software as a statistical platform A step wise approach determined the regression equation with the highest significance The equations were used to detect those variables that have the strongest impact on the credit rating The results for automotive companies with a solid statistical data set are surprisingly high in significance with an adjusted coefficient of determination of over 90% Overall it is not feasible to mention which one of the seventeen financial ratios explains the variation in credit rating most reliable because such a statement depends always on the individual company For example to explain the changes in the rating for the Ford Motor      The American Journal of Science ,1891      Analysing Financial Performance Nic La Rosa,2020-12-28 Despite a plethora of techniques to analyse the financial performance of a business there has been no single methodology that has been overwhelmingly preferred by users This could be an indication that either the methods themselves are deficient or they are limited by other factors that are not easily overcome Unlike the current offerings in the field which focus on issues relating to business performance management or non financial aspects such as market efficiency satisfaction and workforce productivity this book offers a solution to a major gap in the literature and understanding for those seeking to measure analyse and benchmark the financial performance of any organisation for profit not for profit and government agencies It clearly identifies why current techniques fail proposes and evidences a solution that overcomes these issues by including two algorithms that can be combined to solve this problem and demonstrates the practical application of the technique to the benefit of users in order to pinpoint real performance levels and insights One of the largest issues this book will help to overcome is the inability to compare the accounts of businesses organisations from different countries that report in different currencies This technique eliminates the need for currency translations and the issues that arise with that process This book is an invaluable and practical guide to assist accounting and finance practitioners in measuring and comparing financial performance across firms with different business models different accounting policies and different scales of operations      Printing ,1928
