Private life has altered beyond all recognition during the past one hundred years Britain in 1900 was emerging from a Victorian era in which prudery patriarchal authority and pettifogging rules of etiquette were widely perceived to have circumscribed relations between men and women The twentieth century witnessed a reaction against this system of separate spheres spearheaded by reformers eager that the sexes become each other's equals and intimates Modern Love traces the trajectory of this new model of personal relationships over the course of the twentieth century from its emergence out of the crucible of the suffrage campaign through its reshaping by the women's liberation movement It explores its impact on smut merchants warring couples and teenagers as well as its reception by such diverse figures as Bertrand Russell and Germaine Greer It draws on sources as varied as suffragette propaganda banned sex manuals marriage counseling literature and pin up magazines Marcus Collins teaches modern British history at Emory University Islam, Women's Sexuality and Patriarchy in Indonesia Irma Riyani, 2020-11-26 This book explores the intimate marital relationships of Indonesian Muslim married women As well as describing and analysing their sexual relationships the book also investigates how Islam influences discourses of sexuality in Indonesia and in particular how Islamic teachings affect Muslim married women's perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands Based on extensive original research the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage and that there is a strong tendency with some exceptions for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband's right Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin dosa or taboo pamali Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage A Search for Meaning in Love, Sex, and Marriage Hugo L. Sexuality in China Harriet Evans,1997-02 This book analyzes major Chinese governmental publications that deal with sexuality in 1950 when the new Marriage Law was enacted and 1980 with the Second Marriage Law Evans Chinese Univ of Westminster is well grounded in both feminist and Chinese studies which allows her to deepen her analysis with references to China s present day pop culture and conversations she has had with Chinese colleagues Her major finding is that Chinese discourses consistently use medical and or scientific explanations of gender differences to essentially denigrate women Evans s analysis is consistent with much that has been written on China s political system that it cannot survive without maintaining order and stability However she assumes that the audience is fluent in postmodernist language Readings in Human
