Sexual Encounters Pacific Texts Modern Sexualities:

Sexual Encounters Lee Wallace, 2003 European literary artistic and anthropological representation has long viewed the Pacific as the site of heterosexual pleasures. The received wisdom of these accounts is based on the idea of female bodies unrestrained by civilization. In a revisionist history of the Pacific zone and some of its preeminent Western imaginists, Lee Wallace suggests that the fantasy of the male body rather than of the free loving female provides the underlying libidinal structure for many of the classic encounter narratives from Cook to Melville. The subject of Sexual Encounters is sexual fantasy, particularly male homoerotic fantasy, found in the literature and art of South Sea exploration, colonization and settlement. Working at the boundaries of a number of disciplines such as queer theory, anthropology, postcolonial studies and history, Wallace engages in subversive readings of eighteenth and nineteenth century Pacific voyage journals, Cook in Hawaii and a Russian expedition to the Marquesas, an argument concerning Gauguin's treatment of female figures and a discussion of homosexuality and Samoan male to female transgenderism. These phenomena, Wallace asserts, demonstrate the continuity and dissonance between Western and Pacific sexual categories. She reconstructs Pacific history through the inevitable entanglement of metropolitan and indigenous sexual regimes and ultimately argues for the importance of the Pacific in defining modern sexual categories.

Embodiments of Cultural Encounters Sebastian Jobs, Gesa Mackenthun, 2011 The meeting of members of different cultures frequently conceptualized in abstract terms always involves the meeting of human bodies. This volume brings together contributions by scholars of various disciplines that address physical aspects and effects of cultural encounters in historical and present day settings. Bodies were and are not only markers of cultural identity and difference, endlessly inscribed and represented as the body politic or the exotic other as battlegrounds of cross-cultural signification and identification; bodies are also potential agents of change. While some essays address the elusiveness of the real or material body forever lost behind a veil of textual and visual representation, others analyze the performative effect of such representations, their function of disciplining colonized bodies and subjects by integrating them into Western systems of cultural signification and scientific classification. Yet as the volume also shows, formerly colonized people far from subjecting themselves completely to Western discourses of physical discipline retain traditional body practices, whether in food culture, religious ritual or musical performances. Such local reinscriptions escape the grip of Western culture and transform the
