Ranchan, 1998-01-01 The Challenge of the Silver Screen Freek L. Bakker, 2009 In 1897 only two years after the invention of film the first feature film about Jesus appeared This and other films about Jesus became examples for and an inspiration for films on other important religious figures like Rama Buddha and Muhammad Although religious leaders did not always approve of these films they did find a ready audience among believers This book explores these films and looks at how these films dealt with the fundamental question of portraying an individual thought to have either divine status or a very special and unique status among human beings This book will thus benefit not only students of religious film but also those studying the portrayal of central religious figures in the contemporary world An Amorous History of the Silver Screen Zhang Zhen, 2005 Shanghai in the early twentieth century was alive with art and culture With the proliferation of popular genres such as the martial arts film the contest among various modernist filmmakers and the advent of sound Chinese cinema was transforming urban life But with the Japanese invasion in 1937 all of this came to a screeching halt Until recently the political establishment has discouraged comprehensive studies of the cultural phenomenon of early Chinese film and this momentous chapter in China s history has remained largely unexamined The first sustained historical study of the emergence of cinema in China An Amorous History of the Silver Screen is a fascinating narrative that illustrates the immense cultural significance of film and its power as a vehicle for social change Named after a major feature film on the making of Chinese cinema only part of which survives An Amorous History of the Silver Screen reveals the intricacies of this cultural movement and explores its connections to other art forms such as photography architecture drama and literature In light of original archival research Zhang Zhen examines previously unstudied films and expands the important discussion of how they modeled modern social structures and gender roles in early twentieth century China The first volume in the new and groundbreaking series Cinema and Modernity An Amorous History of the Silver Screen is an innovative and well illustrated look at the cultural history of Chinese modernity through the lens of this seminal moment in Shanghai cinema
