Exploitation Poster Art Tony Nourmand, Graham Marsh, 2005 Sex drugs delinquency Black power alternative culture and of course rock and roll these are just a few of the themes which have attracted the attention of the cinema's bottom feeders over the past eighty years A few of the resulting films have become cult classics but most were simply tacky few would probably now want to sit through two hours of High School Hellcats 1958 or Hot Rod Rumble 1957 The posters produced to promote them on the other hand are wonderful period pieces that vividly evoke the social fears temptations and taboos of bygone eras Up until the introduction of the Hayes Code in 1934 Hollywood had few inhibitions the poster for Girl Without a Room 1933 for example left audiences in little doubt about how the young woman would find accommodation Later in the decade it became necessary to adopt the old tabloid trick of pretending that titillating content had a redeeming social message thus the producers of Marijuana were obliged to present it as a warning about the dangers of drug addiction threaten middle class values and of course attracted middle class kids to the drive in screens Then in the 60s and 70s came Blaxploitation movies like Shaft the first of Russ Meyer's mammary obsessed epics Faster Pussycat Kill Kill and even an animated sexploitation story Fritz the Cat The posters for these films from Albert Vargas venture into the genre for Ladies They Talk About 1933 to Alan Aldridge's photomontage for Warhol's Chelsea Girls 1966 are masterpieces of visual innuendo offering in most cases far more than the movies actually delivered As Nasty as They Wanna be Luther Campbell, John Ramsey Miller, 1992 Banned in Florida hooted in Honolulu reviled in Reno blasted in Boston the notorious rap group 2 Live Crew is a monster success This book takes the wraps off the notorious rap group revealing the people behind the bad mouthed persona Black and white photos Newsweek ,2002 Archives of Asian Art ,2004 The Nation ,1924
