Sexism And God Talk Towards A Feminist Theology:

Sexism and God-talk Rosemary Radford Ruether, 2002 Using feminist theology as a tool to expose the male centred bias of classical theology Ruether articulates a faith which incorporates both genders in their totality and which embraces a full humanity Whereas the traditional paradigm begets domination and subordination Ruether's feminism seeks a mutuality which allows for variety and particularly in women and men Examining ways in which the female has been uncomfortably accommodated within the Christian tradition in ecclesiology and Mariology the author looks at ways of rehabilitating these images and engages creatively in the areas of the doctrine of creation Christology ministry and eschatology At the heart of this work is the argument that the dominant Christian tradition if it is challenged and corrected by feminism offers viable and credible categories for interpreting human existence and building redemptive communities Sexism and God-talk

Linda Hogan, 2016-10-06 What are the implications of adopting a primacy of praxis position in feminist theology How can we respect the diversity of women's experience while retaining it as a useful analytic category Do these twin resources of women's experience and praxis together imply that feminist theology is ultimately relativist Through an analysis of the work of some of today's key feminist theologians Christian womanist and post Christian Linda Hogan considers these and other methodological questions God's Patience and our Work Ben Fulford, 2024-02-28 In God's Patience and our Work Ben Fulford argues that Hans Frei's theology and ethics offers unheralded but valuable resources for thinking about the social and political engagement of Christian communities in pluralistic societies in light of hope in Jesus Christ He shows how Frei's project of recovering the conditions for and shape of a generous orthodoxy runs through his work offering broad flexible vision of Christian identity ethical responsibility and humanistic witness focused in the person and presence of Jesus Christ In dialogue with liberation theologies Fulford draws from Frei an account of divine patience and providence to frame hopeful pragmatic Christian participation in work for dignity justice and penultimate reconciliation rooted in new and deeper contextual reading of his work Genese einer Religion Benjamin Simon, 2022-03-15 Im Jahr 2021 hat der Kimbanguismus sein hundertjähriges Bestehen seit dem Auftreten des Propheten Simon Kimbangu begangen Im gleichen Jahr wurden die to refresh their acquaintance with it. Despite claims in some quarters that feminism has been surpassed by gender, this book explains how vital a feminist agenda remains and how much is still to be done both at the theological and the practical level to transform Christianity from two centuries of male gendered discourse and ecclesiastical structure into a religion that adequately reflects the life of modern women. Jesus in Post-Missionary Africa Nicholas Ibeawuchi Mbogu, 2012-07-23

Fachbuch aus dem Jahr 2012 im Fachbereich Theologie Sonstiges Sprache Deutsch Abstract Since the 1960s African theology has been a locus of debate on the relevance of the Christian God in African societies. Pioneer African theologians felt the need to protest against what was considered as the disregard or even denial of African religions cultures by Western missionaries. They called for a theology that would take seriously African religious values. The Christological inquiry that is the question about how to present Christ meaningfully to Africans has dominated this debate for more than 30 years. This enquiry is based on the assumption that missionary Christianity did not bring God to Africa; rather it brought Christ. Hence presenting Christ through African symbols will help Africans to become Christians without losing their identity. However, there seem to be a shift in the recent times. Young African theologians see the need to move away from a cultural nostalgic anti-missionary theology to a free expression of the Christian faith in such a way that it responds to the Africans' present search for meaning as well as the necessary healthy tension between the Gospel and Cultures. This theology is more critical and kerygmatic. While prolonging the intuition of pioneer African theologians, it seeks to offer broader scriptural and dogmatic bases to faith interpretation in Africa. The book Jesus in Post-Missionary Africa: Questions and Issues in African Contextual Christology proposed here by the Claretian theologian Nicholas Mbogu takes its place in this refreshing shift of emphasis. The author states clearly that our proclamation of God in Africa will be seriously deficient without an adequate Christology. The book is presented in ten chapters. Chapters 1-3 present the origin and development of theology in Africa. It is shown clearly that since the seminal gestures of Black priests who wrote the famous book Des pretres noirs in 1956, asking whether and how catholicity can integrate the Negritude, African theology has affirmed and consolidated itself as a contextual theology that is mindful of orthodoxy. With dexterity, the author shows the interpretation of theology and historical events as well as historical science and literature. Political and economic developments, especially the search for independence and distorted systems of post-colonial government, also affected theology in Africa.

Religion and Sexism Rosemary Radford Ruether, 1998-07-09 These essays attempt to fill a growing need for a more exact idea of the role of religion specifically in the Judaeo-Christian tradition in shaping the traditional cultural images that have degraded and suppressed women. This book provides in the compass of a single work a glimpse of the history of the relationship of patriarchal religion to feminine imagery and to the actual psychic and social self-images of women. Verkündigung und Forschung, 1993

Making Connections Mary Kennedy, Cathy Lubelska, Val Walsh, 2005-08-04 First Published in 1993. This is a wide-ranging collection of essays bringing together contributions which address key issues and debates in contemporary women's studies and feminism The variety of feminist identities and perspectives which emerge from these pages reveals the extent to which the diversities of women's experiences continue to reshape feminist knowledge and politics A recurrent theme is how to work with our diversities and to make connections which do not recreate hierarchies or oppressive practices privileging the experiences and aims of some women over those of others Making Connections is an important contribution to ongoing feminist debates     Beiträge zur Geschichte der biblischen Exegese Oscar Cullmann, 1959     Der begreiflich
