Sexist Religion And Women In The Church No More Silence:

Sexist Religion and Women in the Church Alice L. Hageman, 1974 Feminist Theology Ann Loades, 1990-01-01

This timely selection of readings represents the work of some of the best and most influential writers the Christian feminist movement has produced both in Britain and America With its helpful introduction and editorial commentary it will be warmly welcomed by all who wish to be better informed about the wide range of key theological issues now being addressed by feminist thinkers Feminism and Christian Tradition Mary-Paula Walsh, 1999-05-30 This annotated bibliography a volume in the Greenwood series Bibliographies and Indexes in Religious Studies provides access to the numerous writings from the 1960s through the 1990s on feminism and Christian tradition Major feminist theologians and sociologists are represented As a guide to further research this cross disciplinary approach presents themes and issues in both a historical and a topical framework An extensive overview of feminism in relation to the women s movement women s studies sociology and American religion introduces the literature and provides a historical context for the nearly one thousand entries that follow Cross referenced throughout the literature is presented in six thematic categories that include introductory and background materials feminism and the development of feminist theology topical literatures in feminist theology feminism and womanist theology religious leadership of women and responses and recent developments Separate author subject and title indexes complete the volume Dismantling the Dualisms for American Pentecostal Women in Ministry Lisa Stephenson, 2011-09-30

This book analyzes the historical and theological factors resulting in the present situation among American Pentecostal women in ministry and proposes a Feminist Pneumatological anthropology and ecclesiology that address the problematic dualisms that have perpetuated Pentecostal women s ecclesial restrictions I Sing for I Cannot Be Silent June Hadden Hobbs, 1997-10-15 Evangelical churches sing hymns written between 1870 and 1920 so often that many children learn them by rote before they are able to read religious texts A cherished part of communal Christian life and an important and effective way to teach doctrine today these hymns served an additional social purpose in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries they gave evangelical women a voice in their churches When the sacred music business expanded after the Civil War writing hymn texts gave publishing opportunities to women who were forbidden to preach teach or pray aloud in mixed groups Authorized by oral expression gospel hymns allowed women to articulate alternative spiritual models within churches that highly valued orality These feminized hymns are the focus of I Sing for I Cannot Be Silent Drawing upon her own experience as a Baptist June Hadden Hobbs argues that the evangelical tradition is an oral tradition it is not anti intellectual but antiprint Evangelicals rely on memory and spontaneous oral improvisation hymns serve to aid memory and permit interaction between oral and written language By comparing male and female hymnists use of rhetorical forms Hobbs shows how women utilized the only oral communication allowed to them in public worship Gospel hymns permitted women to use a complex system of images already associated with women and domesticity This feminized hymnody challenged the androcentric value system of evangelical Christianity by making visible the contrasting masculine and feminine versions of Christianity When these hymns were sung in church women's voices and opinions moved out of the private sphere and into public religion The hymns are so powerful that they are suppressed by some contemporary fundamentalists today In I Sing for I Cannot Be Silent June Hadden Hobbs employs an interdisciplinary mix of feminist literary analysis social history rhetoric and composition theory hymnology autobiography and theology to examine hymns central to worship in most evangelical churches today

Call No One on Earth Your Father Josephine E. Armour, 2019-03-29 This book brings a critique to the theology of the ordained ministry in contemporary Catholicism a theology that fosters clericalism It challenges a theology that views the ordained as set apart for a particular work over and against the laity This book brings critique to current practices including lifelong commitment to the ordained ministry the requirement of celibacy for the ordained and the exclusion of women from the ordained ministry The author examines history reclaiming elements that have been distorted or forgotten and asks What is retrievable in the tradition that is freeing and redeeming for a renewed theology The critique of the traditional theology and current practices in the ordained ministry and the retrieval of relevant elements of the tradition is a springboard for reconstructing a theology of the ordained ministry The model of the Trinity is suggested as an image for the ordained ministry itself and through its relational nature the ministry of the whole church The model of the Trinity sets the ordained ministry in its rightful context of the Christian community where all of the gifts of the baptized are valued and where ministry is collaborative non hierarchical and mutually enriching for the people of God

We Shall Not Be Moved Jane Ellen Nickell, 2014-10-15 As Protestant denominations are fracturing over whether to ordain gays and lesbians this work looks at The United Methodist Church's conversations about the issue in light of Methodism's historic contests over the leadership of African Americans and women to see what can be learned from these earlier periods of change Using the uniform context of the Methodist General Conference where denominational policy is set the book analyzes transcripts of floor debates in key years of these struggles letting those who argued for and against the changes speak for themselves Those arguments are read through the lens of French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu whose theory offers a sophisticated model that goes deeper than simple resistance to change in articulating a dialectic between social structures and agents that predisposes both to reproduce existing power relationships This interdisciplinary historical study seeks to move beyond conscious motivations for the exclusion of these three groups and uncover deeply embedded misrecognized social dynamics In exploring these groups stories this book examines who holds power in Methodist churches how changes in authority structures occur and why it is such a long and painful process Sexism and Feminism in Theological Perspective University of South Africa. Institute for Theological Research. Symposium,1984 The Disciple,1975 Breaking Boundaries Rosemary Rader,1983 Challenges to Fatherhood Jerome Rono Nyathi,2004

Fundamentalism and Tolerance Andrew Linzey,1991 Bibliography: Women and Language Sandra Silberstein,1980

Metaphors for the Contemporary Church Susan Brooks Thistlethwaite,1983 Feminism and Religion Rita M. Gross,1996 Rita M Gross offers an engaging survey of the changes feminism has wrought in religious ideas beliefs and practices around the world as well as in the study and understanding of religion itself This book will be an important resource for all ongoing work in feminist teaching and research in religion Rosemary Radford Ruether Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz,Marvin B. Sussman,2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4 You Have Stept Out of Your Place Susan Hill Lindley,1996 Susan Hill Lindley presents the story of women and religion in America from the colonial period through the mid 1990s Women throughout American history have repeatedly been accused of stepping out of their places as many have fought for more rewarding roles in the church and society In this book Lindley demonstrates that just as religion in the traditional sense has influenced the lives of American women through its institutions values and sanctions so women themselves have had a significant effect on the shape of American religion through the years Lindley chronicles the struggles and successes of scores of American women who beginning with the Puritan Anne Hutchinson have challenged the subordinate roles assigned to them by their families churches and society in defiance of the presumed divine sanction for their subordination You Have Stept Out of Your Place presents the experiences of women in various geographic ethnic racial and denominational backgrounds Compelling portraits of these women emerge as we bear witness to their enduring contributions to American religion today BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Feminist Theology/Christian Theology Pamela Dickey Young,1990
