Sexual Behavior Of Adolescents In Contemporary Sub Saharan Africa:

Sexual Behavior of Adolescents in Contemporary Sub-Saharan Africa Yanyi Kasongo Djamba, 2004 The papers in this volume show that Africa is a mosaic of cultures where local norms and values must be considered in order to successfully understand and manage the emerging sexual and reproductive health issues Intimität und Sexualität vor der Ehe Astrid Bochow, 2010 Children and Youth in Africa Ntarangwi, Mwenda, 2014-06-12 This annotated bibliography provides a summary of scholarly work on children and youth in Africa published between 2001 and 2011 It draws from journal articles monographs and book chapters This rich resource for scholars presents publications with a wide range of approaches to child and youth studies Some scholars question certain views of children especially when it comes to their own agency and full participation in socioeconomic production at the household level The idea that children are vulnerable social subjects is the predominant view that shaped much of the research reported on in this volume Western restrictions on specific age limits that govern children's participation in work or labour whether paid or not and the subsequent rights that go along with them are often not easily translatable to many African contexts This creates a kind of separation between African and Western scholars in their study and understanding of children The overwhelming focus of research published on HIV AIDS and orphans violence and child soldiers children's rights and street children demonstrates the continued interest regarding children as vulnerable and in need of adult protection Focusing on the vulnerability of children in Africa appears to be a result of the construction of childhood in terms of modern mostly Western perceptions which are based on chronological age mainly This book is very important for all scholars working on children and the youth in Africa Gender-Based Violence Yanyi K. Djamba, Sitawa R. Kimuna, 2015-06-10 This book offers new perspectives on gender based violence in three regions where the subject has been taboo in everyday discourse often due to patriarchal cultural norms that limit women's autonomy The contributions to this book provide rare insight into not only the levels and the socio demographic determinants of domestic violence but topics ranging from men's attitudes toward wife beating domestic violence related adolescent deaths and women's health problems due to sexual and physical abuse With a comprehensive introduction that provides a comparative international research framework for discussing gender based violence in these three unique regions this volume provides a key basis for understanding gender based violence on a more global level Part I on Africa covers men's attitudes towards domestic violence the impact of poverty and fertility the association between adolescent deaths and domestic violence and the link between domestic abuse and HIV Part II on the Middle East covers the importance of consanguinity on domestic violence in Egypt and Jordan the effects of physical abuse on reproductive health and the link between political unrests and women's experience and attitudes towards domestic violence Part III on India shows how sexual abuse puts women at risk of reproductive tract infections and sexually transmitted infections as well as the role of gender norms in wife abuse and the role of youth aggressive behavior in nonconsensual sex With such a deep and broad coverage of factors of intimate partner abuse this book serves as a reference document for researchers decision makers and organizations that are searching for ways to reduce gender based domestic violence This book is of interest for researchers in Criminology and Criminal Justice as well as Sociology Social Work Public Health and Human Rights

International encyclopedia of adolescence Jeffrey Jensen Arnett,2007 Publisher description Young People's Lives and Sexual Relationships in Rural Africa Mary Louisa Plummer,Daniel Wight,2011-08-16 New infections with HIV remain an urgent problem among young people in Africa but many young Africans pursue sexual relationships with little thought about the epidemic This book examines young people s sexual relationships in a region typical of rural sub Saharan Africa and investigates why the risk of HIV infection generally was not a salient concern for them It is based on an extraordinarily large and representative qualitative study that was affiliated with an adolescent sexual health intervention trial and included three person years of participant observation conducted by young East Africans in nine Tanzanian villages The book describes typical patterns of sexual relationship formation in adolescence and early adult life the variety of young people s relationships and practices and the contradictory social ideals and expectations that led premarital and extramarital relationships to be concealed Young men s main motivations for sex were pleasure and masculine identity while young women s was to receive money or materials to meet their basic needs such as soap or a daytime meal By their late teens most young people had experienced one time sexual encounters open ended opportunistic relationships and main sometimes semi public partnerships Relationships could involve desire possessiveness and affection but romantic idealization of a partner was rare Many young people expected their partners to be monogamous but themselves had had concurrent relationships by age 20 The practice of hiding premarital sexual relationships from adults often also concealed them from other sexual partners which helped maintain concurrency and inhibited realistic risk perception Understanding of the biology of HIV AIDS was very limited Condoms were rarely used because they were associated with reduced pleasure infection and promiscuity Sexually transmitted infections were common but several factors hindered young people from seeking biomedical treatment for them Many instead relied on tradit

Reproduction and Social Context in Sub-Saharan Africa Samuel Agyei-Mensah,John B. Casterline,2003-06-30

Perhaps no region matches sub Saharan Africa in its social and cultural diversity In this collection of micro demographic studies the authors examine how the diversity of this region influences reproductive behavior The empirical studies distributed throughout the continent are localized in depth studies that give special attention to contextual effects of social structure and social organization A diverse range of topics is addressed including adolescent sexuality and the effects of early childbearing on later fertility the impact of development programs on fertility and the association between social organization social diffusion and reproductive regime Highly revealing of the determinants of reproduction in Africa these studies serve as a model for a new mode of demographic research The chapters are arranged by geographical regions of the continent with an introductory chapter outlining the editors vision of a micro demographic enterprise and a concluding chapter placing the African fertility transition in the context of the global fertility transition This volume inspires fresh thinking and theorizing about demographic change not only in sub Saharan Africa but also in all low income settings

These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
