Nikephoros ,2017 Helios ,2001 The Marriage of Likeness John Boswell, 1996 Pornography and Representation in Greece and Rome Amy Richlin, Associate Professor of Classics and Women's Studies Amy Richlin, 1992 The first large scale application of feminist theory to the study of Greek and Roman cultures this book points to some striking similarities between our culture and that of the ancient world challenging Foucauldian assumptions about the nature of sexuality Covering such topics as vase painting tragic and comic drama from fifth century Athens Hellenistic philosophy and sex manuals Roman history poetry wall painting representations of gladiatorial combat and romance novels the contributors approach sexuality from both sides of the feminist pornography debate including the use of film theory A path breaking application of feminist theory to the study of Greek and Roman cultures this text offers new insight into the notion of sexuality in the ancient world      Exploring Early Christian Identity Bengt Holmberg, 2008 The main point of emphasis in the book is that approaching the Christian movement's early history through investigating its identity helps us to understand how the followers of Jesus developed from an intra Jewish messianic renewal movement into a new religion with a major Gentile membership and major differences from its Jewish matrix all in only a hundred years Identity is not simply a collection of beliefs that was agreed upon by many first century Christians It is embedded or rather embodied in real life as participation in the founding myths narrativized memory of and accepted teaching on Jesus in cults and rituals as well as in ethical teaching and behavioral norms crystallized into social relations and institutions This is a dynamic feedback process full of conflicts and difficulties both internal and caused by the surrounding society and culture The authors explore different aspects of identity such as how the Gospels narrativization of the social memory shapes and is shaped by the identity of the groups from which they emerge how labels such as Jewish and Christian should and should not be understood the identity forming role of behavioral norms in letters and the interplay between competing leadership ideals and the underlying unity of different Christian groups They also show that identity formation is not necessarily related to innovation in moral teaching nor averse to making use of ancient conventions of masculinity with their emphasis on dominance      History and Feminist Theory Ann-Louise Shapiro, 1992
