Sexuality In Western Art:

Sexuality in Western Art Edward Lucie-Smith, 1991 Edward Lucie Smith's examination of sexuality in Western art from prehistory to the present first treats the tradition chronologically then considers its characteristic themes and symbols

Sexuality in western art Edward Lucie-Smith (Kunsthistoriker), 1991 Sexuality and Eroticism in a Post-pandemic World, 2023-09-20 The cultural change denominated as the new normal goes far beyond the adaptation to habits like physical distancing limited person to person contact teleworking and self isolation established with the COVID 19 pandemic A series of significant transformations in human behavior spreads today in societies all around the world physical intimacy decreases while virtual reality expands and alterity declines while artificial intelligence emerges leading to structural reconfigurations of sex relationships gender awareness and subjectivity Sexuality and Eroticism in a Post pandemic World explores this new cultural atmosphere through twelve interdisciplinary essays questioning global governmentality and challenging the biopolitics of the new normal the administration of self control societies so politically correct that repressed desire for otherness only finds a simulation of its satisfaction with the forced abnormality outrageousness and violence of mainstream porn going from ars erotica to alternative pornography from online dating to gender fluidity from LGBTQI activism to sex life cultivation and more Sex and Society Marshall Cavendish Corporation, 2010-09 Moving beyond a partial view of only biology and psychology this work also examines the wide sociological dimensions of sex Representing the Black Female Subject in Western Art Charmaine A. Nelson, 2010-06-10 Charmaine A Nelson analyzes not only how where why and by whom black female subjects have been represented in Western art but also what the social and cultural impacts of the colonial legacy of racialized western representation have been She poses critical questions about the contexts of production the problems of representation the pathways of circulation and the consequences of consumption Women of Babylon Zainab Bahrani, 2013-03-07 Representations of sexual difference whether visual or textual have become an area of much theoretical concern and investigation in recent feminist scholarship Yet although a wide range of relevant evidence survives from the ancient Near East it has been exceptional for those studying women in the ancient world to stray outside the traditional bounds of Greece and Rome Women of Babylon is a much needed historical art historical study that investigates the concepts of femininity which prevailed in Assyro Babylonian society Zainab Bahrani's detailed analysis of how the culture of ancient Mesopotamia defined sexuality and gender roles both in and through representation is enhanced by a rich selection of visual material extending from 6500 BC 1891 AD Professor Bahrani also investigates the ways in which women of the ancient Near East have been perceived in classical scholarship up to the nineteenth century Americans and Chinese Francis L. K. Hsu, 1980-12-01 A rare combination of scientific and down to earth language of objective analysis and philosophy overlain with a concern for the future of all men and a recognition of the need for understanding between the people of two great cultures Library Journal Images of Older People in Western Art and Society Herbert C. Covey, 1991-03-30 How older people have been perceived during various periods of history from the Middle Ages to the 19th century is the focus of this heavily illustrated study of the elderly in Western society Herbert Covey presents the reader with a wide range of portrayals of the elderly in both art and literature and goes on to analyze in detail the images and symbols of aging sexuality family and death found in these depictions His analyses of the works reflect a variety of disciplines including fine arts gerontology history sociology psychology and literature This book increases our consciousness of images of older people in Western culture by debunking common images and providing background information on how current images and perceptions have developed Images of Older People in Western Art and Society illustrates how society has both defined and portrayed advanced age in Western painting drawing literature and drama First images of aging are presented Then recognizable symbols that have been used throughout history as metaphors for characteristics of aging are shown Because the elderly are often closely involved with family one chapter is devoted to images of the elderly within the family structure Current art often shows the elderly as sexless but that wasn't always so Today death is frequently associated with old age although throughout history death has been associated with all ages Social historians gerontological practitioners and sociologists will find a great deal to study in this visual history The book is illustrated with 41 black and white reproductions of paintings and drawings

Sexuality and Gender in Society Janell L. Burt, 1989 Sexuality and Textuality in Henry James Lloyd Davis, 1988 Using Freudian and post Freudian theories Henry James's fiction is reinterpreted as an arena of linguistic and sexual interaction Through readings of novels including The American and The Golden Bowl it is argued that James's work like Freud's itself can be read as representative and revealing of social and psychological forces and then reread as a product of these same forces The emphasis is not biographical but through employing such theorists as Lacan and Kristeva textual wherein textuality becomes the field of disclosure for sexuality The traditional Jamesian narrative of the passage from innocence is reformulated as both the characterized virgins and the texts entrance into the complexities of the sociosexual order Journal of the History of Sexuality, 1991 Artbibliographies Modern, 1998 Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Fedwa Malti-Douglas, 2007 Addresses issues of sex and gender at the personal and the social level examines issues of identity status class ethnicity race and nation of sexuality and the body of social institutions and the structures of representation Topics include changing conceptions of the feminine the family and masculinity religion morality cultural images medical practice public health economy and society and many more Pornography and Sexual Representation Joseph W.
