The Migration Industry in Asia Michiel Baas, 2019-11-26 This pivot considers the emergence and functioning of the migration industry and commercialization of migration pathways in Asia Grounded in extensive fieldwork and building on empirical data gathered through interactions and interviews with brokers agents and other facilitators of migration it examines the increasing co dependence on entanglement of and overlap between migrants industry and state It considers how for low skilled migrants migration is often not even possible without the involvement of the industry As the opportunity to migrate has opened up to an ever widening group of potential migrants receiving nations have fine tuned their migration infrastructure and programs to facilitate the inflow and timely outflow of the migrants it deems desirable The migration industry plays an active role as mediator between migrants desires and states requirements This pivot focuses on what unites sending and receiving sides of migration going beyond presupposed established networks and offering a clear conceptualization of the contemporary migration industry in Asia International Migration in Southeast Asia Aris

Ananta, Evi Nurvidya Arifin, 2004-12-27 Includes statistics Statelessness, Human Rights and Gender Tang Lay Lee, 2005-09-01 This book breaks from tradition in exploring the developing relationship between statelessness and migration International lawyers refugee and migrant worker advocates will be drawn to the argument that migration law is setting the parameters of the framework for international protection Statelessness used to be associated with state succession mass denationalisation and refugee flows in the twentieth century However the rise in irregular migration is producing new forms of statelessness Neither customary international law international conventions on statelessness refugees and migrant workers nor general human rights instruments provide effective protection for these contemporary groups of stateless persons Women and children are among the most unprotected The discussion on the gendered construction of statelessness will interest those involved in gender studies The analysis of the interface between citizenship migration and other domestic laws and policies of Burma and Thailand will provoke discussion among human rights advocates working on these two countries The book concludes that it is imperative to develop international law limits on state powers in immigration matters

Abortion in Asia Andrea Whittaker, 2010-07-01 The issue of abortion forces a confrontation with the effects of poverty and economic inequalities local moral worlds and the cultural and social perceptions of the female body gender and reproduction Based on extensive original field research this provocative collection presents case studies from Thailand Cambodia Burma Vietnam Bangladesh Indonesia and India It includes powerful insight into the conditions and hard choices faced by women and the circumstances surrounding unplanned pregnancies It explores the connections among poverty violence barriers to access and the politics and strategies involved in abortion law reform The contributors analyze these issues within the broader conflicts surrounding women s status gender roles religion nationalism and modernity as well as the global politics of reproductive health      Immigration Worldwide Uma A. Segal, Doreen Elliott, Nazneen S. Mayadas, 2010-01-19 The ease of transportation the opening of international immigration policies the growing refugee movements and the increasing size of unauthorized immigrant populations suggest that immigration worldwide is a phenomenon of utmost importance to professionals who develop policies and programs for or provide services to immigrants Immigration occurs in both the wealthy nations of the global North and the poorer countries of the global South it involves individuals who arrive with substantial human capital and those with little It has far reaching implications for a nation s economy public policies social and health services and culture The purpose of this volume therefore is to explore current patterns and policies of immigration in key countries and regions across the globe and analyze the implications for these countries and their immigrant populations Each of its chapters written by an international and interdisciplinary group of experts explores how country conditions policies values politics and attitudes influence the process of immigration and subsequently affect immigrants migration and the nation itself No other volume explores the landscape of worldwide immigration as broadly as this does with sweeping coverage of countries and empirical research together with an analytic framework that sets the context of human migration against a wide backdrop of experiential factors that take shape long before an immigrant enters a host country At once a sourcebook and an applied model of immigration studies Immigration Worldwide is a valuable reference for scholars and students seeking a wide ranging yet nuanced survey of the key issues salient to debates about the programs and policies that best serve immigrant populations and their host countries      Myanmar Monique Skidmore, Trevor Wilson, 2007-10-01 Despite deteriorating economic and developmental conditions worsening environmental problems and troubles arising from the unresolved status of its ethnic minorities Myanmar seems no closer to a political resolution Myanmar s economy continues to stagnate with severe implications for its people Low levels of international assistance have exacerbated the situation Myanmar the state community and the environment examines the missed opportunities by government and opposition groups to find a way out of the political impasse and improve the standard of living of the people of Myanmar This collection provides insights into the country s economic development in particular the vital rice marketing sector and the attempts to expand existing industrial zones It focuses for the first time on Myanmar s environmental governance with in depth case studies and on the increasing need for effective environmental protection and sustainability      Protracted Displacement in Asia Howard Adelman, 2016-04-15 In a protracted displacement situation refugees are sequestered in camps without right of mobility or employment their lives remain on hold and stagnate in a state of limbo for a long period This book reviews the situation and results of research and policies that have left refugees as a forgotten group in protracted situations The work features case studies by experts who conducted field work examining long term protracted refugee situations in Nepal Thailand and Bangladesh the protracted internally displaced IDP situation in Sri Lanka and the refugee and IDP situation in Afghanistan Also discussed is an emerging protracted refugee and IDP problem in Iraq The volume concludes with an analysis of the lessons learned and the applications for policy and incorporates a valuable bibliography detailing research in this hugely important area This is a critical resource for academics and policy makers concerned with migration and governance issues Thailand Migration Report ... ,2011 Gathering Strength Brenda Belak,2002 International Migration in Thailand 2009 Rosalia Sciortino,International Organization for Migration,2009 International Migrations and Human Rights Bertrand Fort,2005 Asian Migrant Yearbook ,2001 Asian Women as Transnational Domestic Workers Shirlena Huang,Brenda S. A. Yeoh,Noor Abdul Rahman,2005 This volume is an attempt to enhance not only academic research on transnational domestic workers but also inform governments nongovernmental organisations and civil society groups in their efforts to derive appropriate policies and make recommendations to address the problem related to Asian transnational domestic workers BOOK JACKET Asian and Pacific Migration Journal ,2004 Review of Indonesian and Malaysian Affairs ,2006 Migrant Domestic Workers Awatsaya Panam,2004 Transborder Issues in the Greater Mekong Sub-region ,2008 Viet Nam Social Sciences ,2002 Burma Debate ,2000
