Color Constancy Marc Ebner,2007-06-05 A human observer is able to recognize the color of objects irrespective of the light used to illuminate them This is called color constancy A digital camera uses a sensor to measure the reflected light meaning that the measured color at each pixel varies according to the color of the illuminant Therefore the resulting colors may not be the same as the colors that were perceived by the observer Obtaining color constant descriptors from image pixels is not only important for digital photography but also valuable for computer vision color based automatic object recognition and color image processing in general This book provides a comprehensive introduction to the field of color constancy describing all the major color constancy algorithms as well as presenting cutting edge research in the area of color image processing Beginning with an in depth look at the human visual system Ebner goes on to examine the theory of color image formation color reproduction and different color spaces discuss algorithms for color constancy under both uniform and non uniform illuminants describe methods for shadow removal and shadow attenuation in digital images evaluate the various algorithms for object recognition and color constancy and compare this to data obtained from experimental psychology set out the different algorithms as pseudo code in an appendix at the end of the book Color Constancy is an ideal reference for practising engineers computer scientists and researchers working in the area of digital color image processing It may also be useful for biologists or scientists in general who are interested in computational theories of the visual brain and bio inspired engineering systems Embedded and Ubiquitous Computing Edwin Sha,2006-07-18 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the International Conference on Embedded and Ubiquitous Computing EUC 2006 held in Seoul Korea August 2006 The book presents 113 revised full papers together with 3 keynote articles organized in topical sections on power aware computing security and fault tolerance agent and distributed computing wireless communications real time systems embedded systems multimedia and data management mobile computing network protocols middleware and P2P and more Computer Vision of Shadows Pamela Brigid Lechleider,1997 Process Photogram and Illustrator ,1899 Journal of the Franklin Institute Franklin Institute (Philadelphia, Pa.),1896 Vols 1 69 include more or less complete patent reports of the U S Patent Office for years 1825 1859 cf Index to v 1 120 of the Journal p 415 Cambridge Magazine ,1917 Clinical Cardiology Franklin C.
