Born into nothing.
Destined to change the world.

Lost in Uttar Pradesh Evan S. Connell,2008-05-28 Although he may be best known for his novels Mr Bridge and Mrs Bridge or perhaps for his brilliant biography of Custer Son of the Morning Star Evan S Connell is an undisputed master of the short story His restraint concision and perfect pitch lend themselves beautifully to the form and he intuitively senses when to explain and when to let silence stand in speech s stead Lost in Uttar Pradesh collects new work by Connell along with some of his earlier masterpieces Memorable characters like the corpulent Mr Bemis Katia and her lion and a wanderer back from Spain ring true not because their stories are filled with monumental events but because they center around seemingly insignificant events that somehow remain in the mind Through Connell s mastery the most trivial happening the voice that speaks only once resonates far beyond the final page
