Curriculum Claudia Fuhriam Eliason, Loa Thomson Jenkins, 1981 Shadows of Childhood Ray Willich, 1978 New Perspectives on African Childhood De-Valera NYM Botchway, Awo Sarpong, Charles Quist-Adade, 2019-09-05 What does it mean to be a child in Africa In the detached Western media narratives of penury wickedness and death have dominated portrayals of African childhood The hegemonic lens of the West has failed to take into account the intricacies of not only what it means to be an African child in local and culturally specific contexts but also African childhood in general Challenging colonial discourses this edited volume guides the reader through different comprehensions and perspectives of childhood in Africa Using a blend of theory empiricism and history the contributors to this volume offer studies from a range of fields including African literature Afro centric psychology and sociology Importantly in its eclectic geographical coverage of Africa this book unashamedly presents the good the bad and the ugly of African childhood The resilience creativity pains and triumphs of African childhood are skilfully woven together to present the myriad of lived experiences and aspirations of children from across Africa As an important contribution to African childhood studies this book has the potential to be used by policymakers to shape sustain or change socio cultural economic and education systems that accommodate African childhood dynamics and experiences at different levels Dionysius , 1986 Children's Ideas in Science Rosalind Driver, 1985-06-16 Children arrive in their science classrooms with their own ideas and interpretations of the phenomena they are to study even when they have received no systematic instruction in these subjects whatsoever These ideas and interpretations are a natural result of everyday experience of practical physical activities of talking with other people and of the media This book documents and explores the ideas of school students aged 10-16 about a range of natural phenomena such as light, heat, force and motion, the structure of matter and electricity. It also examines how students' conceptions change and develop with teaching. The editors have brought together science educators who come from different parts of the world but whose work is focused on the same determination to bring insight into the conceptual world of children in science classrooms, insight which will be helpful in making science teaching and learning more rewarding for teachers and children alike.

Shadow Work Vincenzo Venezia, Have you ever been afraid to confront your deepest hidden side, fearing that uncovering certain truths might change the way you see yourself? Do you feel stuck in repetitive patterns as if part of you is always one step behind, holding you back? Do you long to live a more authentic life but fear looking too deeply into yourself? There's a part of you that you've learned to hide. Maybe out of fear, maybe to fit in, or maybe because no one ever taught you that accepting every part of yourself isn't a weakness; it's a strength. And yet that part hasn't disappeared. It's there in the silence, surfacing in unexpected moments in a memory that resurfaces in a feeling you can't quite explain in a small voice, whispering that there's more. Behind the masks you wear every day are emotions and desires that only want to be heard, not to judge you but to set you free. Have you ever felt like this? You carry an invisible weight, the pain of old wounds you've never dared to touch. You feel stuck as if you're living a life that doesn't entirely belong to you. Your relationships often feel shallow and you're unsure how to build deeper connections. The past sometimes feels like it's holding you back like an invisible chain. You're afraid to show your true self, worried that others might judge or reject you. You try to move forward but you keep encountering the same patterns and obstacles. You feel an inner emptiness, a vague sense of dissatisfaction even when everything seems fine. You avoid facing yourself because you're afraid of uncovering parts of you that you don't want to confront. You feel overwhelmed by emotions as if letting them rise to the surface might make you lose control. You sense that something is missing like a puzzle piece you can't find. You torment yourself in silence, feeling an unexplained anger or pain inside as if a hidden part of you is sabotaging your efforts. If these words made you feel a spark of recognition, if you saw a part of yourself reflected in these questions, then this book was written with you in mind. This is not a manual that tells you what to do. It's a mirror that gently invites you to look within. It's a path that guides you step by step to make peace with past experiences without being overwhelmed. Overcome emotional blocks that keep you stuck. Discover who you truly are without masks or filters. Build authentic relationships with others and with yourself. This book won't ask you to change who you are. It will help you remember who you've always been and free the most authentic version of yourself. Because beneath all the pain, beneath all the masks, there is a light waiting to be rediscovered. The shadow you fear is where your truth resides. Embrace it and you will uncover who you truly are.
