Adventures of Perception Scott MacDonald, 2009-08-25 Over the past twenty five years Scott MacDonald's kaleidoscopic explorations of independent cinema have become the most important chronicle of avant garde and experimental film in the United States In this collection of thematically related personal essays and conversations with filmmakers he takes us on a fascinating journey into many under explored territories of cinema MacDonald illuminates topics including race and avant garde film the political implications of the nature film the inventive single shot films of the late 1960s and early 1970s why men use pornography and what they are looking at when they do poetry and the poetic in avant garde film the widespread failure of film studies academicians to honor those who keep film exhibition alive and other topics Several of the interviews those with Korean filmmaker Gina Kim French nature filmmakers Claude Nuridsany and Marie Perrenou Microcosmos Canadian media artist Clive Holden formalist conceptualist David Gatten and New York's Film Forum director Karen Cooper are the first substantial conversations with these filmmakers available in English Publisher's description

Early British Animation Malcolm Cook, 2018-05-04 This book is the first history of British animated cartoons from the earliest period of cinema in the 1890s up to the late 1920s In this period cartoonists and performers from earlier traditions of print and stage entertainment came to film to expand their artistic practice bringing with them a range of techniques and ideas that shaped the development of British animation These were commercial rather than avant garde artists but they nevertheless saw the new medium of cinema as offering the potential to engage with modern concerns of the early 20th century be it the political and human turmoil of the First World War or new freedoms of the 1920s Cook's examination and reassessment of these films and their histories reveals their close attention and play with the way audiences saw the world As such this book offers new insight into the changing understanding of vision at that time as Britain's place in the world was reshaped in the early 20th century

Film and the Holocaust Aaron Kerner, 2011-05-05 When representing the Holocaust the slightest hint of narrative embellishment strikes contemporary audiences as somehow a violation against those who suffered under the Nazis This anxiety is at least in part rooted in Theodor Adorno's dictum that To write poetry after Auschwitz is barbaric And despite the fact that he later reversed his position the conservative opposition to all artistic representations of the Holocaust remains powerful leading to the insistent demand that it be represented as it really was And yet whether it's the girl in the red dress or a German soldier belting out Bach on a piano during the purge of the ghetto in Schindler's List or the use of tracking shots in the documentaries Shoah and Night and Fog all genres invent or otherwise embellish the narrative to locate meaning in an event that we commonly refer to as unimaginable This wide ranging book surveys and discusses the ways in which the Holocaust has been represented in cinema covering a deep cross section of both national cinemas and genres

Haunted Families and Temporal Normativity in Hispanic Horror Films Charles St-Georges, 2018-04-20 This book examines the interactions between ghosts and families in three recent horror films from the Spanish speaking world that rather than explicitly referencing recent political violence speak to the societal conditions and everyday normative violence that serve as preconditions for political violence This study deconstructs intersectional processes of racially and sexually normative subject formation and its oppositional other ghostly erasure that are framed by a common temporal logic wherein full citizenship is contingent upon a nation's dominant notions of contemporaneity and whether individuals properly inhabit prescriptive timelines of reproductivity St Georges's study explores ways in which ghosts and families are manipulated in each national imaginary as a strategy for negotiating volatility within symbolic order a tactic that can either naturalize or challenge normative discourses As a literary and cinematic trope ghosts are particularly useful vehicles for the exploration of national imaginaries and the dominant or competing cultural attitudes towards a country's history and thus the articulation of a present political reality The rhetorical figure of the family is also key in this process as a mechanism for expressing national allegories for expressing generational anxieties about a nation's relationship to time and for organizing societies and social subjects as such interpellating them into or excluding them from national imaginaries By proposing these specific coordinates ghosts and families and by mapping their relationship between Spain and Latin America Troubling Timelines proposes a study of a temporal framework that besides bridging the traditional area studies divide across the Atlantic creates a space for interdisciplinary inquiry while also responding to increasing demand for studies that focus on intersectionality
