Empire and Nation in Early English Renaissance Literature Stewart James Mottram, 2008 Sensitive readings of Renaissance texts offer new insights into the perception of imperialism in the sixteenth century The complex topics of colonialism empire and nation run throughout English Renaissance literature Here the author moves beyond recent work on England s British colonial interests arguing for England s self image in the sixteenth century as an empire of itself part of a culture which deliberately set itself apart from Britain and Europe In the first section of the book he explores England s self image as empire in the Arthurian and classical pageants of two Tudor royal entries into the City of London Charles V s in 1522 and Anne Boleyn s in 1533 Part Two focuses on the culture of English Bible reading and its influence on England s imperial self image in the Tudor period He offers fresh new readings of texts by Richard Morison William Tyndale John Bale Nicholas Udall and William Lightfoot among other authors represented Dr STEWART MOTTRAM is Research Lecturer Institute for Medieval and Early Modern Studies Aberystwyth University Milton, Toleration, and Nationhood Elizabeth Sauer, 2013-12-09 John Milton lived at a time when English nationalism became entangled with principles and policies of cultural religious and ethnic tolerance Combining political theory with close readings of key texts this study examines how Milton's polemical and imaginative literature intersects with representations of English Protestant nationhood Through detailed case studies of Milton's works Elizabeth Sauer charts the fluctuating narrative of Milton's literary engagements in relation to social political and philosophical themes such as ecclesiology exclusionism Irish alterity natural law disestablishment geography and intermarriage In so doing Sauer shows the extent to which nationhood and toleration can be subjected to literary and historicist inquiry Her study makes a salient contribution to Milton studies and to scholarship on early modern literature and the development of the early nation state The Life of Samuel Johnson, LL. D. James Boswell, 2006 Drama and the Sacraments in Sixteenth-Century England David Coleman, 2007-10-11 Drama and the Sacraments in Sixteenth Century England is the first book length study of the relationship between early modern drama and sacramental ritual and theology The book examines a range of dramatic forms including morality plays Tudor interludes and the Elizabethan professional stage Offering new insights into the religious practices on which early modern subjectivity is founded David Coleman both uncovers neglected texts and documents and offers radical new ways of reading canonical Renaissance plays Renaissance Clothing and the Materials of Memory Ann Rosalind Jones, Peter Stallybrass, 2000 During the late sixteenth century fashion first took on the sense of restless change in contrast to the older sense of fashioning or making As fashionings clothes were perceived as material forms of personal and social identity which made the man or woman In Renaissance Clothing and the Materials of Memory Jones and Stallybrass argue that the making and transmission of fabrics and clothing were central to the making of Renaissance culture Their examination explores the role of clothes as forms of memory transmitted from master to servant from friend to friend from lover to lover This 2001 book offers a close reading of literary texts paintings textiles theatrical documents and ephemera to reveal how clothing and textiles were crucial to the making and unmaking of concepts of status gender sexuality and religion in the Renaissance The book is illustrated with a wide range of images from portraits to embroidery Tudor Literature Andrew Hiscock, 2008 Quoting Death in Early Modern England Scott L. Newstok, 2009-01-15 An innovative study of the emergent Renaissance practice of making epitaphic gestures within other English genres This book argues that the post Reformation preoccupation with textual remembrance led to a remarkable proliferation of epitaphs beyond the putative tomb A poetics of quotation uncovers the ways in which writers have recited these texts within new contexts This book modifies conventional genre studies by detailing the situatedness of quoted text a compositional habit that became markedly prevalent with the continued expansion of printing and literacy in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries BOOK JACKET Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur, 2008 Rethinking the Turn to Religion in Early Modern English Literature Gregory Kneidel, 2008-08 Offering new readings of major early modern English poets such as Spenser Milton and Donne Kneidel counters the trend among literary critics to associate early modern religion with Pauline inwardness and self formation by showing how these writers took Saint Paul as a model of rhetorical skill and political acumen Notes and Queries William John Thoms, 2005 Marlowe's Republican Authorship Patrick Cheney, 2009-02-15 This book argues broadly that any historical narrative about republicanism needs to place Marlowe at the front of its genealogy and that his interest in republican ideals is sustained from the beginning to the end of his meteoric career More specifically this study will nonetheless argue that it is difficult to discern a clear republican form of government in Marlowe's works What we can discern is republican representation the author's representational foregrounding of his own republican frame of art This study is the first to situate the complex Marlowe corpus within the context of the advent of English Republicanism
