Schooler, David L. Schooler, Th.D., 2024-05-07 Why doesn't he act his age Why does she behave so impulsively Why does he have meltdowns so often There is always meaning behind behavior in all of us It might be a behavioral reaction from something as simple as hunger or exhaustion Or something far more serious a triggered reaction to a traumatic frightening experience Children who have experienced early childhood neglect or trauma are often greatly impacted in developmental ways Children in foster care or who are given up for adoption often deal with these kinds of negative early experiences and it can be difficult to know how to help People who teach either in school or children's ministry often see these youngsters behavior as confusing and don't understand why In Caring for Kids from Hard Places Jayne and David Schooler discuss the reasons behind why children and teens sometimes exhibit potentially disruptive behavior Together they offer practical strategies on training equipping and resourcing staff and volunteers to provide a responsive environment for children with behavioral challenges Caring for Kids from Hard Places includes Insights on how to understand adverse childhood experiences ACEs Principles for creating a trauma informed environment Strategies for facilitating healing Tips on how to create a sensory smart classroom Discover how to better love children from difficult backgrounds and pave their way for a better life Discover, 1992 The Race to Reach Out Michael J. Coyner, Doug Anderson, 2009-06-01 Most church members would tell you that theirs is a friendly congregation eager to welcome visitors and new members into their midst Yet far too many of these same congregations have trouble translating this intention into action Offering a friendly greeting to a new face is important but it is only the first of many steps that congregations must take in order to turn visitors into members and new members into committed disciples The authors believe that to assimilate newcomers into the life and ministry of the congregation the whole church system must be involved Anderson and Coyner demonstrate how to identify and respond to visitors in a nonthreatening yet interested way how to share information about them with the leaders of those ministries and programs in which they would be most interested how best to help them in their decision to become church members and how to help them understand and fulfill their own call to ministry in the congregation They insist that churches be motivated not by a desire for institutional survival or advancement but by a passion for people and their place in the kingdom of God Right from the Start Shirley K.
