Popular Music in a Digital Music Economy

Tim Anderson, 2013-12-17 In the late 1990s the MP3 became the de facto standard for digital audio files and the networked computer began to claim a significant place in the lives of more and more listeners. The dovetailing of these two circumstances is the basis of a new mode of musical production and distribution where new practices emerge. This book is not a definitive statement about what the new music industry is. Rather, it is devoted to what this new industry is becoming by examining these practices as experiments dedicated to negotiating what is replacing an object-based industry oriented around the production and exchange of physical recordings. In this new economy, constant attention is paid to the production and licensing of intellectual property and the rise of the social musician who has been encouraged to become more entrepreneurial. Finally, every element of the industry now must consider a new type of audience: the end user and their productive and distributive capacities around which services and musicians must orient their practices and investments.

Billboard, 2011-10-01 In its 114th year, Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform. Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music, video, gaming, media, digital, and mobile entertainment issues and trends.

Maximilians Universität Würzburg China Business and Economics Sprache Deutsch Abstract In the past several years the Chinese company Huawei has become one of the most important developers of new network architecture and its corresponding standard namely the fifth generation cellular network 5G standard However despite the economic importance of an innovative network for the overall economy companies directly involved in developing network standards and building up network infrastructure are reported to not making a significant or only short term profit Hence the question remains why Huawei engages so vigorously in network development The overriding opinion on Huawei's intentions is focused on geopolitical considerations The partly state owned company might intentionally integrate vulnerabilities in its 5G architecture to use it for espionage However there is to date no clear evidence of severe technological vulnerabilities in Huawei equipment The following paper does not aim to defend Chinese companies or Chinese policy Neither does it primarily examine whether fears over espionage are perceived or real Reasons for concern will be addressed since the ongoing debate around Huawei and 5G is rapidly changing the business environment However the paper will mainly try to evaluate how Huawei is fostering its position as an indispensable player in network standard development What is so special about Huawei's 5G standard that other producers cannot provide How will Huawei outweigh the risks associated with network development Moreover how is Huawei going to add value and monetize the 5G highway
