Gaining an understanding about the barriers in transitioning from high school to college is crucial to improving college access and matriculation particularly for low income families and first generation college goers These obstacles include many factors such as Lack of access to resources at home or school Not having a rigorous college preparatory curriculum or not taking advantage of these courses Misperceptions about the college going process This volume introduces innovative and effective ways to ease the transition process One essential question examined is the role of high schools and whether they should take a more active role in preparing students for college While some interventions in this issue are designed for school wide implementation others are more targeted and focus on certain aspects of the college process such as financial aid but all recognize the role of high schools in shaping students college going aspirations and behavior By including the most cutting edge and rigorous research on improving college access this volume Delineates the obstacles adolescents face in their transition from high school to college Increases understanding of the mechanisms contributing to gaps in college enrollment Highlights how interventions can help to ease these challenges This is the 140th volume of New Directions for Youth Development the Jossey Bass quarterly report series dedicated to bringing together everyone concerned with helping young people including scholars practitioners and people from different disciplines and professions
