The End of College Football Nathan Kalman-Lamb, Derek Silva, 2024-10-04 In this book Nathan Kalman Lamb and Derek Silva offer an existential challenge to one of America's favorite pastimes college football Drawing on twenty five in depth interviews with former players from some of the country's most prominent college football teams Kalman Lamb and Silva explore how football is both predicated on a foundation of coercion and suffused with racialized harm and exploitation Through the stories of those who lived it the authors examine the ways in which college football must be understood as a site of harm revealing how players are systematically denied the economic value they produce for universities and offered only a devalued education in return By illuminating the plantation dynamics that make college football a particularly racialized form of exploitation the book makes legible the forms of physical sacrifice that are required the ultimate cost in health and well being and the coercion that drives players into the sport and compels them to endure such abusive conditions Radio

The explosion of mobile access across the globe has shaken the foundations of the traditional sales funnel and businesses are scrambling to adapt and find new ways to tap into the market. For all their effort many have failed to realize that the issue is not how to reach the customer where they are but where they are going and their mindset at the moment. With the staggering growth in the use of mobile technology as both product research and purchase point businesses have yet to fully understand the important role mobile devices play in the basic structure of the traditional shopping model and the new importance on linking behavior with location. With the death of the traditional sales funnel comes author Chuck Martin's new model the Mobile Shopping Life Cycle. Based on the author's in depth research Martin has identified the six specific moments in the timeline of the sale which marketers must target effectively in order to reach the mobile buyer. From location based marketing to mobile payment systems Martin's model gives marketers access to the tools necessary to build a new sales framework that properly addresses the future of the market.

American Sports Benjamin G. Rader, 1990 In The Death of the American Trial distinguished legal scholar Robert P Burns makes an impassioned case for reversing the rapid decline of the trial before we lose one of our public culture's greatest achievements. As a practice that is adapted for modern times yet rooted in ancient wisdom the trial is uniquely suited to balance the tensions between idealism and realism experts and citizens contextual judgment and reliance on rules that define American culture. Arguing that many observers make a grave mistake by taking a complacent or even positive view of the trial's demise Burns concludes by laying out the catastrophic consequences of losing an institution that so perfectly embodies democratic governance.
