Popular Narratives:

Language, Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin-de-Siècle Christine Ferguson, 2017-03-02 Christine Ferguson's timely study is the first comprehensive examination of the importance of language in forming a crucial nexus among popular fiction biology and philology at the Victorian fin de siècle Focusing on a variety of literary and non literary texts the book maps out the dialogue between the Victorian life and social sciences most involved in the study of language and the literary genre frequently indicted for causing linguistic corruption and debasement popular fiction Ferguson demonstrates how Darwinian biological philological and anthropological accounts of primitive and animal language were co-opted into wider cultural debates about the apparent brutality of popular fiction and shows how popular novelists such as Marie Corelli Grant Allen H G Wells H Rider Haggard and Bram Stoker used their fantastic narratives to radically reformulate the relationships among language thought and progress that underwrote much of the contemporary prejudice against mass literary taste In its alignment of scientific cultural and popular discourses of human language Language Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin de Siècle stands as a corrective to assessments of best selling fiction's intellectual ideological and aesthetic simplicity

New Woman in Early Twentieth-Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng, 2004-07-30 In The New Woman in Early Twentieth Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng proposes that representation of the new woman in Communist Chinese fiction of the earlier twentieth century was paradoxically one of the ways in which male writers of the era explored negotiated and laid claim to their own emerging identity as modern intellectuals Specifically Feng argues that male writers such as Lu Xun Yu Dafu Ba Jin and Mao Dun created fictional women as mirror images of their own political inadequacy but that at the same time this was also an egocentric ploy to affirm and highlight the modernity of the male author This gender biased attitude was translated into reality when women writers emerged Whereas unfair gender biased criticism all but stifled the creative output of Bing Xin Fang Yuanjun and Lu Yin Ding Ling s dogged attention to narrative strategy allowed her to maintain subjectivity and independence in her writings that is until all writers were forced to write for the collective Feng addresses both the general and the specialized audience of fiction in early twentieth century Chinese fiction in three ways for scholars of the May Fourth period Feng redresses the emphasis on the simplistic gender neutral representation of the new women by re reading selected texts in the light of marginalized discourse and by an analysis of the evolving strategies of narrative deployment for those working in the area of feminism and literary studies Feng develops a new method of studying the representation of Chinese women through an interrogation of narrative permutations ideological discourses and gender relationships and for studies of modernity and modernization the author presents a more complex picture of the relationships of modern Chinese intellectuals to their cultural past and of women writers to a literary tradition dominated by men Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts ,1910 The Bureau of Popular Literature of Netherlands India Indonesia.
