The Portable Margaret Fuller Margaret Fuller, 1994-10 Indispensable to students of antebellum culture Philip F Gura Univ of North Carolina A highly valuable resource for students of American Studies and Women's Studies alike Donald Pease UC Riverside The Book of Esther and the Typology of Female Transfiguration in American Literature Ariel Clark Silver, 2017-11-30 The enduring search for female salvation in American literature is first expressed through typology an interpretive framework that pairs type with antitype historical scriptural promise with future spiritual fulfillment When Cotton Mather invokes the typos of Esther in Ornaments of the Daughters of Zion a Puritan conduct book he offers a female type of divine wisdom authority and force In the biblical Book of Esther Esther acts as a female type of wisdom and redemption but her story also engages the larger history of Hebrew salvation In nineteenth century America Margaret Fuller seeks to extend the spiritual claims once made by Mather and establish the role of the divine female in the salvation of American culture and society Fuller supplants the type of male sacrifice with a type of female transfiguration in works such as Woman in the Nineteenth Century Nathaniel Hawthorne then transforms these iconoclastic ideals into literary life by engaging the multi faceted figure of Esther as a typos of female redemption and salvation in Legends of the Province House The Scarlet Letter The Blithedale Romance and The Marble Faun Through his female characters Esther Dudley Hester Prynne Zenobia and Miriam he seeks to fulfill the divine destiny of the American woman Hawthorne discovers however that female redemption is followed by revenge as Esther turns from saving her people to ensuring an end to their oppression When Henry Adams later revives Esther Dudley in his novel Esther he rejects male redemption for the American woman In Democracy Esther Mont Saint Michel and The Education of Henry Adams Adams envisions an independent eternal woman who can rival the political scientific artistic and theological power of men The movement from male to female salvation is achieved when the terms of female redemption are transformed and the American woman is established as her own source of divine wisdom power retribution and force The typology of female transfiguration in America is fulfilled by Fuller Hawthorne and Adams through the promise extended by the type of Esther The Keys of Power Nathan Crick, 2017-08-31 Examines Transcendentalism as a distinct rhetorical genre concerned primarily and self consciously with questions of power Nathan Crick has crafted a new critical rhetorical history of American Transcendentalists that interprets a selection of their major works between the years 1821 and 1852 as political and ethical responses to the growing crises of their times In The Keys of Power Crick argues that one of the most enduring legacies of the Transcendentalist movement is the multifaceted understanding of transcendental eloquence as a distinct rhetorical genre concerned primarily and self consciously with questions of power Crick examines the Transcendentalist understanding of how power is constituted in both the self and in society conceptualizing the relationships among technology nature language and identity critiquing the ethical responsibilities to oneself the other and the state and defining and ultimately praising the unique role that art action persuasion and ideas have in the transformation of the structure of political culture over historical time What is offered here is not a comprehensive genealogy of ideas a series of individual biographies or an effort at conceptual generalization but instead an exercise in narrative rhetorical theory and criticism that interprets some of the major specific writings and speeches by men and women associated with the Transcendentalist movement Sampson Reed Amos Bronson Alcott Orestes Brownson Ralph Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Henry David Thoreau and Frederick Douglass by placing them within a specific political and social history Rather than attempting to provide comprehensive overviews of the life and work of each of these individuals this volume presents close readings of individual texts that bring to life their rhetorical character in reaction to particular exigencies while addressing audiences of a unique moment This rhetoric of Transcendentalism provides insights into the keys of power that is the means of persuasion for our modern era that remain vital tools for individuals seeking to reconcile power and virtue in their struggle to make manifest a higher ideal in the world Sex and Citizenship in Antebellum America Nancy Isenberg, 2000-11-09 With this book Nancy Isenberg illuminates the origins of the women's rights movement Rather than herald the singular achievements of the 1848 Seneca Falls convention she examines the confluence of events and ideas before and after 1848 that in her view marked the real birth of feminism Drawing on a wide range of sources she demonstrates that women's rights activists of the antebellum era crafted a coherent feminist critique of church state and family In addition Isenberg shows they developed a rich theoretical tradition that influenced not only subsequent strains of feminist thought but also ideas about the nature of citizenship and rights more generally By focusing on rights discourse and political theory Isenberg moves beyond a narrow focus on suffrage Democracy was in the process of being redefined in antebellum America by controversies over such volatile topics as fugitive slave laws temperance Sabbath laws capital punishment prostitution the Mexican War married women's property rights and labor reform all of which raised significant legal and constitutional questions These pressing concerns debated in women's rights conventions and the popular press were inseparable from the gendered meaning of nineteenth century citizenship Metzler Lexikon

Lunsford, 1995 These essays examine how women have used language to reflect their vision of themselves and their age how they have used traditional rhetoric and applied it to women's discourse and how women have contributed to rhetorical theory ESQ., 2002 The Norton Anthology of Literature by Women Sandra
