Portraits From The Hills:

Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography John Hannavy, 2013-12-16 The Encyclopedia of Nineteenth Century Photography is the first comprehensive encyclopedia of world photography up to the beginning of the twentieth century It sets out to be the standard definitive reference work on the subject for years to come Its coverage is global an important first in that authorities from all over the world have contributed their expertise and scholarship towards making this a truly comprehensive publication The Encyclopedia presents new and ground breaking research alongside accounts of the major established figures in the nineteenth century arena Coverage includes all the key people processes equipment movements styles debates and groupings which helped photography develop from being a solution in search of a problem when first invented to the essential communication tool creative medium and recorder of everyday life which it had become by the dawn of the twentieth century The sheer breadth of coverage in the 1200 essays makes the Encyclopedia of Nineteenth Century Photography an essential reference source for academics students researchers and libraries worldwide The Americans in Paris; with names and addresses, sketch of American art, lists of artists and pictures, and miscellaneous matter of interest to Americans abroad, 1887 Pioneer Photographers of the Far West Peter E. Palmquist, Thomas R. Kailbourn, 2000 This extraordinarily comprehensive well documented biographical dictionary of some 1 500 photographers and workers engaged in photographically related pursuits active in western North America before 1865 is enriched by some 250 illustrations Far from being simply a reference tool the book provides a rich trove of fascinating narratives that cover both the professional and personal lives of a colorful cast of characters

Old Women and Art in the Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior Erin J. Campbell, 2016-03-09 Though portraits of old women mediate cultural preoccupations just as effectively as those of younger women the scant published research on images of older women belies their significance within early modern Italy This study examines the remarkable flowering largely overlooked in portraiture scholarship to date of portraits of old women in Northern Italy and especially Bologna during the second half of the sixteenth century when as a result of religious reform the lives of women and the family came under increasing scrutiny Old Women and Art in the Early Modern Italian Domestic Interior draws on a wide range of primary visual sources including portraits religious images architectural views prints and drawings as well as extant palazzi and case furnishings and domestic objects created by the leading artists in Bologna including Lavinia Fontana Bartolomeo Passerotti Denys Calvaert and the Carracci The study also draws on an array of historical sources including sixteenth century theories of portraiture prescriptive writings on women and the family philosophical and practical treatises on the home economy sumptuary legislation books of secrets prescriptive writings on old age and household inventories to provide new historical perspectives on the domestic life of the propertied classes in Bologna during the period Author Erin Campbell contends that these images of unidentified women are not only crucial to our understanding of the cultural operations of art within the early modern world but also by working from the margins to revise the center provide an opportunity to present new conceptual frameworks and question our assumptions about old age portraiture and the domestic interior

The North American Journals of Prince Maximilian of Wied Prince Alexander Philipp Maximilian of Wied, 2014-04-09 Few historical chronicles are as informative and eloquent as the journal written by Prince Maximilian of Wied as a record of his journey into the North American interior in 1833 following the route Lewis and Clark had taken almost thirty years earlier Maximilian's memorable descriptions of topography Native peoples and natural history were further brought to life through the now familiar watercolors and sketches of Karl Bodmer the young Swiss artist who accompanied him The first of the three volumes of the North American Journals recounts the prince's journey from Europe to St Louis then the edge of the frontier Volume II vividly narrates his experiences on the upper Missouri and offers an unparalleled view of the region and the peoples native to it In these pages we accompany Maximilian as he travels far up the Missouri River to Fort McKenzie a trading post some 2 500 river miles from St Louis near what is now Fort Benton Montana The handsome oversize volume not only reproduces this historic document but also features every one of Maximilian's illustrations more than 200 in all including nearly 50 in color from the original journal now housed at Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha Nebraska Maximilian recorded detailed observations of flora fauna geology and climate From his unique scientifically trained perspective he also undertook a serious field study of the cultures and languages of the central and northern Great Plains Indians he encountered His journal contains important firsthand descriptions of tribal social customs religious rituals material culture and art as well as an account of Native interactions with Euro Americans engaged in the then burgeoning fur trade This book is published with the assistance of the National Historical Publications and Records Commission
