The Economy and Politics of the Netherlands Since 1945 Richard Griffiths, 2013-03-09 There is relatively little information on The Netherlands written in the English language which is easily accessible to social science students and even less which is systematically assembled between the covers of a single book This is unfortunate not only because The Netherlands is an important part of Western Europe but because the experience of The Netherlands in the way in which it has attempted to resolve the economic and political problems confronting it may help to shed valuable light on similar issues facing other European countries The contributions for this volume were chosen with these considerations in mind On the one hand the selection of topics was intended to provide an overall impression of the political and economic development of The Netherlands since the Second World War Thus separate chapters are devoted to an examination of economic development counter inflation energy regional and planning policies pressure groups electoral performance cabinet formation and colonial and European policies On the other hand these areas for investigation were chosen to invite specific contrast with the experience of other European nations or to illustrate certain problems of political or economic theory It is my pleasure to thank first of all the contributors themselves for the conscientious way in which they prepared their drafts which made my task as editor so much easier Secondly it will be apparent to even the most casual observer that I have contributed two chapters

Inclusive Economic Theory Ralph William (Bill) Pfouts, Steven Rosefielde, 2014-11-27 The goal of Inclusive Economics is to tie together various authoritative strands of contemporary economic theory into an easily comprehensible whole that illuminates the need for a broader approach to contemporary economic policymaking undistorted by obsolete 18th century rationalist assumptions about utility ethics worthiness and traditional culture This is accomplished by elaborating the rationalist competitive ideal along the optimizing lines pioneered by Paul Samuelson neoclassical economics plumbing modifications necessitated by Herbert Simon's realist concepts of bounded rationality and satisficing refined further by applying a pragmatist outlook to probe the consequences of relaxing Enlightenment teleological ethical spiritual and cultural taboos The exercise will explain why competitive market economies guided by rational utility seeking invariably are less productive efficient just and beneficent than most theorists concede and will illuminate the full range of interventions needed to achieve better outcomes We call this program in its entirety Inclusive Economics including the integration of micro and macroeconomics

Globalization and the Decline of Social Reform Gary Teeple,2000-01-01 Globalization is the coming of the triumph of capitalism the growing ascendancy of economics over politics of corporate demands over public policy of private over public interest It represents the approaching completion of the capitalization of the world carried out by self generating capital in the form of transnational corporations within an increasingly coherent transnational regulatory regime Neo liberal policies at the national level argues the author represent the policy side of globalization the political requirements of global capital the harmonization of the national with the global They mark the transition between two eras from a world of national corporations and nation states to a world of transnational corporations and supranational regulatory agencies The author examines the postwar conditions that gave rise to the modern welfare state and the politics of social democracy throughout the industrial world He traces the transformation of these conditions in the 1970s with the coming of a computer based mode of production and the consequent necessity for global relations of production In the face of global assertions of the rights of corporate private property he makes the case that the world s subordinate classes and peoples will have to create global means of resistance
