Risk Taking And Decision Making:

Risk assessment and risk management in regulatory decision-making United States. Presidential/Congressional Commission on Risk Assessment and Risk Management,1997 Construction Risk Management Decision Making Alex C. Arthur,2021-12-01 CONSTRUCTION RISK MANAGEMENT DECISION MAKING Explores the relevance of systems thinking and behavioral science in construction risk management Effective risk management is a vital component of all successful construction projects Although quantitative tools for evaluating data and minimizing risk are readily available construction managers commonly adopt a more innate experience based approach In Construction Risk Management Decision Making project manager and senior consultant Alex C Arthur provides step by step advice on assessing and prioritizing risk using qualitative decision making systems in the construction industry Incorporating key theories and concepts from systems thinking and behavioral science this highly practical guide focuses on the behavior patterns of real people in the industry rather than complex quantitative techniques and data Concise easy to understand chapters highlight the current practices of construction risk management while helping readers view risk and decision making from a broader perspective Throughout the book the author presents invaluable insights into the ways construction professionals think and behave in the real world Addresses the actual risk management practices of construction professionals Applies human behavioral theories to the study of construction risk management decision making Illustrates the highly intuitive approaches prevalent in various construction projects Features real life case studies and practical examples throughout Construction Risk Management Decision Making is an excellent textbook for advanced students in project management engineering construction and surveying courses and a must have guide for practitioners of construction management surveying and architecture Decision Making and Risk Taking Ward Edwards,1968 Risk Taking Herbert S. Kindler,1990 Risk is everywhere and often avoiding one risk backs us into another The issue for people in organizations is not whether to take risks but how to take reasonable risks The first edition of this book presented a systematic way of evaluating risks and a three step process for making decisions in risky situations The revision looks at the anatomy of decisions in a new way and integrates new studies and information developed over the 8 years since the original publication The Relationship of Social Risk-taking to Measures of Anxiety and Creativity Kathleen Marie Wahler,1977 Risk Taking and Decision Making ,1998-02 Risks are an integral part of complex high stakes decisions and decisionmakers are faced with the unavoidable tasks of assessing risks and forming risk preferences This is true for all decision domains including financial environmental and foreign policy domains among others How well decisionmakers deal with risk affects to a considerable extent the quality of their decisions This book provides the most comprehensive analysis available of the elements that influence risk judgments and preferences The book has two dimensions theoretical and comparative historical The study of risk taking behavior has been dominated by the rational choice approach Instead the author adopts a socio cognitive approach involving a multivariate theory integrating contextual cognitive motivational and personality factors that affect an individual decisionmaker's judgment and preferences the social interaction and structural effects of the decisionmaking group and its organizational setting and the role of cultural societal values and norms that sanction or discourage risk taking behavior The book's theoretical approach is applied and tested in five historical case studies of foreign military interventions The richly detailed empirical data on the case studies make them metaphorically speaking an ideal laboratory for applying a process tracing approach in studying judgment and decision processes at varying risk levels The case studies analyzed are U S interventions in Grenada in 1983 and Panama in 1989 both low risk Soviet intervention in Czechoslovakia in 1968 moderate risk U S intervention in Vietnam in 1964-68 high risk and Israel's intervention in Lebanon in 1982-83 high risk
