Queen Anne James Anderson Winn, 2014 As the last Stuart monarch Queen Anne 1665 1714 received the education thought proper for a princess reading plays and poetry in English and French while learning dancing singing acting drawing and instrumental music As an adult she played the guitar and the harpsichord danced regularly and took a connoisseur's interest in all the arts In this comprehensive interdisciplinary biography James Winn tells the story of Anne's life in new breadth and detail and in unprecedented cultural context Winn shows how poets painters and musicians used the works they made for Anne to send overt and covert political messages to the queen the court the church and Parliament Their works also illustrate the pathos of Anne's personal life the loss of her mother when she was six her troubled relations with her father and her sister James II and Mary II and her own doomed efforts to produce an heir Her eighteen pregnancies produced only one child who lived past infancy his death at the age of eleven mourned by poets was a blow from which Anne never fully recovered Her close friendship with Sarah Duchess of Marlborough a topic of scabrous ballads and fictions ended in bitter discord the death of her husband in 1708 left her emotionally isolated and the wrangling among her chief ministers hastened her death Richly illustrated with visual and musical examples Queen Anne draws on works by a wide array of artists among them the composer George Frideric Handel the poet Alexander Pope the painter Godfrey Kneller and the architect Christopher Wren to shed new light on Anne's life and reign This is the definitive biography of Queen Anne The Critic, 1851 The Academy, 1896 The Centrality of Crime Fiction in American Literary Culture Alfred Bendixen, Olivia Carr Edenfield, 2017-06-26 This collection of essays by leading scholars insists on a larger recognition of the importance and diversity of crime fiction in U S literary traditions Instead of presenting the genre as the property of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler this book maps a larger territory which includes the domains of Mark Twain F Scott Fitzgerald William Faulkner Richard Wright Flannery O'Connor Cormac McCarthy and other masters of fiction The essays in this collection pay detailed attention to both the genuine artistry and the cultural significance of crime fiction in the United States It emphasizes American crime fiction's inquiry into the nature of democratic society and its exploration of injustices based on race class and or gender that are specifically located in the details of American experience Each of these essays exists on its own terms as a significant contribution to scholarship but when brought together the collection becomes larger than the sum of its pieces in detailing the centrality of crime fiction to American literature This is a crucial book for all students of American fiction as well as for those interested in the literary treatment of crime and detection and also has broad appeal for classes in American popular culture and American modernism Agee at 100 Michael A. Lofaro, 2026-10-25 Drawn mainly from the centennial anniversary symposium on James Agee held at the University of Tennessee in the fall of 2009 the essays of Agee at 100 are as diverse in topic and purpose as is Agee's work itself Often devalued during his life by those who thought his breadth a hindrance to greatness Agee's achievements as a poet novelist journalist essayist critic documentarian and screenwriter are now more fully recognized With its use of previously unknown and recently recovered materials as well as established works this groundbreaking new collection is a timely contribution to the resurgence of interest in Agee s significance The essays in this collection range from the scholarly to the personal and all offer insight into Agee s writing his cultural influence and ultimately Agee himself Dwight Garner opens with his reflective essay on Why Agee Matters Several essays present almost entirely new material on Agee Paul Ashdown writes on Agee s book reviews which unlike Agee s film criticism have received scant attention With evidence from two largely unstudied manuscripts Jeffrey Couchman sets the record straight on Agee s contribution to the screenplay for The African Queen and delves as well into his television miniseries screenplay Mr Lincoln John Wranovics treats Agee s lesser known films the documentaries In the Street and The Quiet One and the Filipino epic Genghis Khan Jeffrey J Folks wrestles with Agee s culture of repudiation while James A Crank investigates his perplexing treatment of race in his prose Jesse Graves and Andrew Crooke provide new analyses of Let Us Now Praise Famous Men and Michael A Lofaro and Philip Stogdon both discuss Lofaro s recently restored text of A Death in the Family David Madden closes the collection with his short story Seeing Agee in Lincoln an imagined letter from Agee to his longtime confidante Father Flye The contributors to Agee at 100 utilize materials new and old to reveal the true importance of Agee s range of cultural sensibility and literary ability Film scholars will also find this collection particularly engrossing as will anyone fascinated by the work of the author rightly deemed the sovereign prince of the English language
