Pollis,1972 The Human Condition Udo Schnelle,1996 This book alone of its kind raises basic questions about the way the New Testament understands human existence Udo Schnelle shows how Jesus expresses the relation between human beings and God and how Paul and John develop their theological thought to a substantial degree as anthropology Significant provocative differences between the New Testament and contemporary understandings of human life emerge with clarity Theology and Prayer Gary Eaborn,2023-06-26 What does it mean for rigorous thought about God to be guided by prayer What do Ignatius of Loyola's Spiritual Exercises teach us about discernment How can that discernment become a spiritual discipline which guides our choices throughout life How can that discipline guide the theological choices we all make including those of academic theologians This book moves beyond the abstract notion that theology should be prayerful to bring theology together with a particular spiritual practice It argues that the Spiritual

Exercises are a system of prayerful discernment which already provide for reason to be used alongside an openness to all experience and all the ways that we can be guided by the Holy Spirit This book provides a constructive interpretation of the Exercises as a path of prayerful discernment which can be used throughout life It sees in the Exercises a way of active receptivity to all experience treating all experience as worthy of attention but also approaching that experience with humility and caution This book sees theology practiced in this way as a discerning spiritual discipline as more resistant to the challenges of modernity than theology which has been sundered from our spiritual life Rediscovering the Human Andrea M. Ng'weshemi, 2002 By assuming that the data for understanding the human being and human nature is given and therefore remains the same at all times and in all places Christian theological anthropology has barely quenched the quests for meaning and fulfillment that have constantly emerged in every age Modern western theologians such as Barth and Rahner have sought to tie theological anthropology with Christology with the conviction that Jesus Christ is paradigmatic of what humanity should be Critical Theory and the Human Condition Michael A.
