Physical Eloquence The Biology Of Writing:

Physical Eloquence and the Biology of Writing Robert Ochsner, 1990-01-01 As a statement about literacy this book recommends an approach to teaching writing that stresses the neurological foundations of written English mastered almost like a foreign language Physical eloquence refers to neurological processes of hand eye and ear that every writer must control in order to generate and simultaneously to interpret a written text Biology of writing refers to innate or otherwise untaught abilities that all people have for acquiring prose and which are not enhanced by formal learning Ochsner promotes a realistic writing curriculum that stresses subconscious processes in the biology of the writing process rather than planned rehearsed and formally practiced activities for learning to write He concludes that successful literacy instruction depends on a teacher's willingness to take into account the supremacy of popular culture and the ascendancy of its spoken idiom The Epistemic Music of Rhetoric Steven B. Katz, 1996 Katz English North Carolina State U examines the correlation between Reader Response Criticism and the philosophy of science engendered by the Copenhagen School of New Physics and assesses the scientific empiricism that controls the parameters of reading and writing theory to look at the possibility of teaching reading and writing as rhetorical music He reinterprets Cicero's rhetorical theory in light of recent revisionist scholarship and sketches a temporal model of affective response in reading and writing Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Dramatizing Writing Virginia Skinner-Linnenberg, 2020-07-24 Although speech departments have owned delivery for the last 100 years those who teach writing especially English departments can gain a great deal by reinstating delivery into their conceptions of and theories about writing Thus in the author's vision of dramatizing writing in the composition classroom delivery can have an impact on all the composing steps from invention to final draft The goals of this text are to redefine delivery for writing to reunite it with other parts of the classical rhetorical canon and to practically apply it in contemporary writing instruction This text is divided into three main sections The first provides a survey of the history of delivery in rhetorical theory A continuum is set up from a totally physical conception of delivery to a noetic one which incorporates more intellectual processes The argument is that the tension heightened by discord over its definition eventually led to the splitting of delivery from the rhetorical canon A separate discussion of the women's challenge to delivery is also included The next section contains a survey of facets of delivery that exist in current theory combined with the author's own theory of delivery It provides insight into the state of delivery in contemporary writing instruction The author argues that since the split of delivery from the rhetorical canon has caused a modern bias against delivery in writing theory many strategies that could aid in the teaching of writing have either been overlooked or undertheorized Therefore she borrows from current theoretical areas within and outside of writing in order to construct her own theory of delivery The last section provides practical applications of delivery in writing instruction Again borrowing from many sources inside and outside of composition she describes the techniques teachers may use to incorporate delivery in a writing classroom Through the use of delivery more strategies may be developed to aid in the teaching of writing Special features include the incorporation of some practices that had been in use in the composition classroom for many years but did not have any consciously theoretical grounding the discussion of women rhetoricians theories on delivery the combination of many contemporary theoretical areas including theatrical feminist rhetorical and pedagogical to form the author s redefined theory of delivery and the presentation of practical applications of this new theory of delivery for teachers to utilize in their own classrooms

Applied Psycholinguistics ,1990 Toward a Model of Reading Writing as Oral Discourse Cheryl Forbes,1992 The QUARTERLY JOURNAL of SPEECH ,1994 Tools to facilitate transitions into unfamiliar writings contexts Priscilla S. Rogers and Jone Rymer, Twentieth-Century Rhetorics and Rhetoricians Michael G. Moran,Michelle Ballif,2000-08-30 Rhetoric and rhetorical theory have been gaining in prominence throughout the 20th century As leaders in all fields give careful attention to issues in communication rhetoric becomes increasingly central to a range of disciplines Many of these leaders have shaped rhetorical theory through their work in other fields and rhetoric becomes more and more difficult to define and delimit This reference is a guide to major trends and developments in rhetoric and rhetorical theory during the last 100 years Included are alphabetically arranged entries for major and minor rhetoricians such as Mikhail Bakhtin Roland Barthes Wayne Booth Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Peter Elbow and Linda Flower Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography an analysis of the figure s rhetorical theory and a current bibliography of primary and secondary sources The figures included represent a range of rhetorical schools An extensive introduction discusses these schools and the volume concludes with extensive bibliographical material

CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric, 1991 Gail E. Hawisher,Cynthia L. Selfe,1993 The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric published for the Conference on College Composition and Communication offers teachers and researchers an annual classified listing of scholarship on written English and its teaching at the college level The 1991 volume lists and annotates 1 925 articles books dissertations and papers that with few exceptions were published during the 1991 calendar year A group of 171 contributing bibliographers prepared the citations and annotations for the entries appearing in this volume The CCCC Bibliography includes an index of authors and editors a subject index and entries cross referenced according to subject matter Considerably more comprehensive than other bibliographies in composition studies the CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric draws upon a large group of experts in the field to aid teachers and researchers in sorting through a vast body of interdisciplinary material making their work easier and more effective Annotations accompany all entries in this volume They describe a publication s contents and are intended to help users determine its usefulness Annotations are brief and insofar as the English language allows are meant to be descriptive not evaluative they explain what an entry is about while leaving readers free to judge for themselves the work s merits Most annotations serve one of three functions they present the document s thesis main argument or major research finding they describe the work's major organizational divisions or they indicate the purpose or scope of the work. The subject index lists most of the topics discussed in the works cited in this volume. Consulting the Subject Index will help users locate sections and subsections containing large numbers of entries addressing the same topic. Each document is cited and annotated only once under one of the five major sections of the CCCC Bibliography. Each entry however receives an entry number so that cross references to other sections are possible. This feature is especially useful because much scholarship in composition and rhetoric is interdisciplinary in nature. Cross references appear as a listing of entry numbers preceded by See also found at the end of each subsection. Entries appear under five major categories: bibliographies and checklists, theory and research, teacher education, administration and social roles, curriculum and testing, measurement and evaluation. Although the CCCC Bibliography excludes master's theses, textbooks, computer software, and book reviews from its coverage, it furnishes citations to review essays, articles appearing in some 220 journals, scholarly monographs, and essay collections, dissertations abstracted in Dissertation Abstracts International, and selected documents and conference materials available through ERIC.

Litigation Guide for Paralegals Cynthia M. Osborne, 1994 Cooperstown Symposium on Baseball and the American Culture, 2000 CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric 1993 Gail E. Hawisher, Cynthia L. Selfe, 1995-06. Greatly expanded over past years, this volume lists and annotates 2,054 articles, books, dissertations, and papers that with few exceptions appeared in 1993. It includes an index of authors and editors, a subject index, and entries cross referenced according to subject matter. Entries in this present volume include topics with which rhetoricians and compositionists have always concerned themselves. The 1993 volume is however the largest CCCC Bibliography so far, with many of its titles dealing with the relationship of composition and rhetoric to critical theory, gender issues, and cultural studies. This volume also differs from earlier editions in that it contains a new section on electronic discussion groups or listservs, including information on how readers may join the various groups. The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric draws on a large group of experts in the field. Annotations which accompany every entry in this volume describe a publication's contents and are intended to help users determine its usefulness. Annotations are brief and are meant to be descriptive, not evaluative; they explain what an entry is about but leave readers free to judge for themselves the work's merits.
