Perspectives On Anger And Emotion:

Perspectives on Anger and Emotion Robert S. Wyer, Jr., Thomas K. Srull, 2014-01-14 In this volume Berkowitz develops the argument that experiential and behavioral components of an emotional state are affected by many processes some are highly cognitive in nature others are automatic and involuntary Cognitive and associative mechanisms theoretically come into play at different times in the emotion cognition sequence The model he proposes therefore integrates theoretical positions that previously have been artificially segregated in much of the emotion cognition literature The breadth of the implications of Berkowitz s theory is also reflected in the diversity of this book s companion chapters Written by researchers whose work focuses on both social cognition and emotion these articles provide important insights and possible extensions of the cognitive neoassociationistic conceptualization developed in the target article Although each chapter is a valuable contribution in its own right this volume taken as a whole is a timely and important contribution both to social cognition and to research and theory on emotion per se

Women's Anger Deborah Cox, Sally Stabb, Karin Bruckner, 2016-03-23 First published in 2000 Women s Anger brings together in an integrated presentation of anger over the lifespan theoretical understandings clinical experiences empirical research and the lived experience of anger for women and girls Women s Anger offers a combined focus of feminist and developmental perspectives on anger the psychology of emotion and applied theory It also focuses on the adaptive and functional aspects of women s anger rather than on the traditional psychopathology based models The reader will be introduced to several clinical illustrations from actual clients as well as to personal accounts of women and girls talking about their own perspectives on anger

The Sociology of Emotions Jonathan H. Turner, Jan E. Stets, 2005-03-14 All social relations involve emotional responses from the simplest face to face encounter through the mobilization of social movements to the commitments that individuals develop for culture and society The social world is thus dependent upon the arousal of emotions and equally significant conflict and change in societies is ultimately driven by emotional arousal Thus it is important to understand how human emotions influence and are influenced by the social world This understanding takes us into the sociology of emotions that has emerged as a distinct area of inquiry over the last thirty years

The Moral Psychology of Anger Myisha Cherry, Owen Flanagan, 2017-12-21 The Moral Psychology of Anger is the first comprehensive study of the moral psychology of anger from a philosophical perspective In light of the recent revival of interest in emotions in philosophy and the current social and political interest in anger this collection provides an inclusive view of anger from a variety of philosophical perspectives The authors explore the nature of anger explain its resilience in our emotional lives and normative frameworks and examine what inhibits and encourages thoughts feelings and expressions of anger The volume also examines rage anger's cousin and examines in what ways rage is a moral emotion what black rage is and how it is policed in our society how berserker rage is limited and problematic for the contemporary military and how defenders of anger respond to classical and contemporary arguments that expressing anger is always destructive and immoral This volume provides arguments for and against the value of anger in our ethical lives and in politics through a combination of empirical psychological and philosophical methods This authors approach these questions and aims from a historical phenomenological empirical feminist political and critical theoretic perspective

Perspectives on Anxiety, Panic, and Fear Debra A. Hope, Carroll Ellis Izard, 1996 Modern conceptualization of the multidimensional nature of anxiety panic and fear are examined from a variety of perspectives including theories of emotion and cognition neuropsychology and conditioning Carroll E Izard and Eric A Youngstrom open with a review of Differential Emotions Theory In the second chapter Jeffrey A Gray and Neil McNaughton summarize and update Gray's neuropsychological theory of anxiety Susan Mineka and Richard Zinbarg consider what modern conditioning theory contributes to the understanding of emotion and Richard J McNally offers an overview of the application of experimental cognitive paradigms to fear panic and anxiety The volume concludes with a new version of David H Barlow's theory of emotional disorders Barlow Bruce F Chorpita and Julia Turovsky draw from work on emotion neurophysiology attributions learning ethology attention and child development to describe how the inappropriate activation of fear e g a panic attack can trigger events that may eventually become a clinical anxiety disorder Perspectives on Anxiety Panic and Fear confirms that anxiety panic and fear are complex phenomena requiring a multidimensional approach that ranges from neuroanatomy to conditioning

Encyclopedia of Women and Gender, Two-Volume Set Judith Worell, 2001-10-16 The study of gender differences began in earnest in the 1970s and has since increased dramatically to infiltrate virtually all fields of study in the social and behavioral sciences Along the way it was discovered that while women very often think and behave differently than do men industrialized societies cater to masculine perspectives The Psychology of Women emerged as a field of study focusing on just those areas in which women most often butted against assumed roles And similarly in the 1990s the Psychology of Men emerged to focus on the same issues for men The Encyclopedia of Gender covers all three areas under one cover discussing psychological differences in personality cognition and behavior as well as biologically based differences and how those differences impact behavior Coverage includes studies of these differences in applied settings such as education business the home in politics sports competition etc Key Features Over 100 In depth chapters by leading scholars in the psychology of women and gender Addresses critical questions of similarities and differences in gendering across diverse groups challenging myths about gender polarization and the Venus Mars distinction Broad coverage of topics from theory and method to development personality violence sexuality close relationships work health and social policy Sensitive attention to multicultural and cross cultural research Clearly written readable comprehensive with helpful guides outline glossary reference list Raises difficult questions related to power inequality ethics and social justice Challenges the reader to revise established truths and to seek further information Maintains a feminist and woman centered focus

Feeling Democracy Sarah Tobias, Arlene Stein, 2024-06-14 Cultural critic Lauren Berlant wrote that politics is always emotional and her words hold especially true for politics in the twenty first century From Obama to Trump from Black Lives Matter to the anti abortion movement politicians and activists appeal to hope fear anger and pity all amplified by social media The essays in Feeling Democracy examine how both reactionary and progressive politics are driven largely by emotional appeals to the public The contributors in this collection cover everything from immigrants rights movements to white nationalist rallies to show how solidarities forged around gender race and sexuality become catalysts for a passionate democratic politics Some essays draw parallels between today's activist strategies and the use of emotion in women led radical movements from the 1960s and 1970s while others expand the geographic scope of the collection by considering Asian decolonial politics and Egyptian pro democracy protests Incorporating scholarship from fields as varied as law political science philosophy psychoanalysis and history Feeling Democracy considers how emotional rhetoric in politics can be a double edged sword often wielded by authoritarian populists who seek to undermine democracy but sometimes helping to bring about a genuine renewal of participatory democracy

The Communication of Emotion: Current Research from Diverse Perspectives Karen Caplovitz Barrett, 1997 The authors explore the cultural and familial factors that influence how emotions are communicated to children and the varied ways children's development is affected They show how context the nature of the relationship between partners the cultural background and the ongoing events surrounding communication between partners plays a crucial role in determining what is communicated and understood through facial vocal and other means of emotion communication And they reveal how emotion communication within the family directly affects the formation of children s self and other schemas and examine the role of emotion communication in the development of shame guilt and pride This is the 77th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Child Development For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals section Social Psychology Quarterly ,1979

Sociocultural Perspectives in Social Psychology Letitia Anne Peplau, Shelley E. Taylor, 1997 A reader designed as a supplement to traditional sophomore junior level courses in Social Psychology Personality and Introductory Psychology A first of its kind this innovative supplementary text offers students the most current findings on sociocultural issues in social psychology Presented with a multicultural perspective this collection of readings complements a basic textbook with new research and concepts about culture ethnic minorities and established principles as they relate to standard topics of social psychology The readings in this book are derived from primary sources written by renowned authors and reflect the field s diverse methods for conducting research Context setting introductions and critical thinking questions encourage students to carefully consider each topic s applications and implications both in and out of the classroom Emotion Robert D. Kavanaugh, Betty Zimmerberg, Steven Fein, 1996 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Triumph Over The Mediocre Self Dr. Talib Kafaji, 2013-08 Normally we come to the world from parents who are not educated in the way they raise us Often our parents dump their pathology on us and keep us struggling in our lives to free ourselves from such burdens Following that we enter the outside world and we observe a lot of dysfunctions in society We then continue to sail through the journey of our lives with painful dysfunctions We become confused frustrated less happy and disappointed in ourselves and in the world around us because we have not being taught or guided to discover who we are and to know our true essence We have not been provided the right tools to manage our lives effectively The way we learned to do things is merely trial and error Furthermore among all other species human beings take longer to be independent from parents or caregivers We need more time to mature so we can rely on ourselves Therefore a book such as this can be useful to guide us through the labyrinth of our lives
