Persuasion in the Media Age Timothy Borchers, 2021-09-14 Persuasion in the Media Age addresses the impact of electronic media on the practice of persuasion and reviews constantly evolving digital strategies Today's world demands a new perspective on persuasion one that is grounded in the assumption that human consciousness and culture have been forever altered by communication technology The fourth edition provides timely examples of persuasion in political campaigns social movements marketing and interpersonal relationships and the role of social media and media technologies in all of the contexts From advertisers to politicians to influencers to friends persuaders use increasingly sophisticated strategies to sway behavior Borchers skillfully weaves theory research and engaging examples to help readers understand the practice of social influence and to apply critical thinking skills to the persuasion they encounter daily The text takes an interdisciplinary approach to provide the latest thinking on persuasion while also drawing on a broad theoretical base for foundational concepts such as attitudes rhetoric and human motivation Throughout Borchers emphasizes audience storytelling visual images and ethics This comprehensive insightful and accessible overview of persuasive communication teaches readers how to be skilled creators of persuasive messages as well as critical consumers Mass Media James B. Martin, 2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes Authentic Communication Tim Muehlhoff, Todd Lewis, 2010-02-25 What could be more natural more human than communication But we all learn quickly enough that good communication is not always natural There is much to learn from Scripture and from the academic study of human communication In this book Tim Muehlhoff and Todd Lewis are able guides aiding us in understanding the broad field of human communication in Christian perspective Propaganda in the Helping Professions Eileen Gambrill, 2012-02-20 This incisive look at how propaganda has infiltrated the helping professions is essential reading for social workers psychologists and other helping professionals and is an excellent supplement to courses on critical thinking and introduction to practice Gender, Sport and Development in Africa Jimoh Shehu, 2010-07-12 To many young people the term sport has an exhilarating ring to many older persons it signifies recreation and leisure From colonial times it has been viewed as a means of social control Increasingly it is being touted by governments and donor agencies as a self evident tool of Africa's development How accurate are these individual romantic and moral notions of sport In this volume eleven African scholars offer insightful analyses of the complex ideological and structural dimensions of modern sport as a cultural institution Drawing on various theories and cross cultural data the contributors to this volume highlight the various ways in which sport norms policies practices and representations pervasively interface with gender and other socially constructed categories of difference They argue that sport is not only a site of competition and physical recreation but also a crossroad where features of modern society such as hegemony identities democracy technology development and master statuses intertwine and bifurcate As they point out in many ways sport production reproduction distribution and consumption are relational spatial and contextual and therefore do not pay off for men women and other social groups equally The authors draw attention to the structure and scope of efforts needed to transform the exclusionary and gendered nature of sport processes to make them adequate to the task of engendering Africa's development Gender Sport and Development in Africa is an immensely important contribution to current debates on the broader impacts of sport on society It is an essential reading for students policy makers and others interested in perspectives that interrogate the grand narratives of sport as a neutral instrument of development in African countries

Persuasion and Influence in American Life Gary C. Woodward, Robert E. Denton (Jr.), 2004
ITB journal of visual art and design, 2013 Perspectives on Persuasion, Social Influence, and Compliance Gaining John S. Seiter, Robert H. Gass, 2004 This collection of chapters written by some of the most important persuasion scholars of our time represents the scope, depth, and richness of the field of persuasion. With contributions from authors in a wide variety of disciplines, Perspectives on Persuasion, Social Influence, and Compliance Gaining provides students with a panoramic view of the field, broadening their perspective and understanding of the influence and impact of persuasion in our lives. Contributing authors include Richard Petty, John Cacioppo, James Dillard, Daniel O'Keefe, Michael Cody, Robert Cialdini, Michael Burgoon, Linda Carli, David Buller, Judee Burgoon, and others. Features: Students gain insights directly from those who produced the theories and research, as these top-notch scholars reflect on the development of the theory or research, where it is going, and where it has been. The contributors come from multiple disciplines, including communication, psychology, and business, offering students multiple perspectives on the content. Introductions to each section provide students with the rationale for student appreciation of ethics, an orientation to each chapter, and an understanding of each chapter's contribution to the field. Early chapters on conceptualizations of persuasion, the history of the field, and theoretical developments give students the background necessary for understanding what persuasion is and how it functions. Chapters on both theories of persuasion and the practice of persuasion in multiple contexts help students see the connection between theory and practice. Concrete examples of theories and concepts bring the text to life and help students more easily understand the material. Chapter on deception enables students to see how one of the most recently researched areas fits into the field of persuasion.
