Persuasion Contexts People And Messages:

Persuasion Roxane S. Lulofs,1990-11-01 This text is based on the central theme that persuasion cannot be understood apart from the setting in which it occurs both the immediate context of a persuasion event and the cultural milieu in which it occurs Drawing many examples directly from student experiences roommate problems classroom demands part time jobs and mass media events it examines how culture and context help create shape and perfect the means people use to influence one another Comprehensive in perspective it examines the various micro macroscopic contexts of persuasion intrapersonal interpersonal groups organizations social movements campaigns propaganda and the mass media Persuasion Roxane Salyer Lulofs,1991

The Handbook of Personalized Persuasion Richard E. Petty,Andrew Luttrell,Jacob D. Teeny,2025-02-19 The Handbook of Personalized Persuasion provides the most comprehensive and state of the art review of the expansive literature on personalized messaging in persuasion The book describes what features of people messages and contexts are most effective for personally tailored communication and how this knowledge can be leveraged to improve the influence of messaging in any domain It also addresses when such personalization can be counterproductive or backfire Bringing together some of the foremost experts in the area the book consists of a diverse global and interdisciplinary set of scholars who tackle the theory and application of personalized persuasion Organized into two sections the first part of this book addresses the many aspects of people to which messages can be targeted such as the basis of a person s attitude or the person s goals or identity The second part of this book tackles the many important areas of application in which personalized messaging has been examined such as political and health messaging consumer advertising and even online misinformation This handbook is essential reading for researchers and students in social psychology and across the behavioral and social sciences while also offering practitioners in marketing government and beyond the most cutting edge insights into how to maximize the influence of personalized persuasion Persuasive Communication Richard Young,2016-07-15 This updated and expanded edition of Persuasive Communication offers a comprehensive introduction to persuasion and real world decision making Drawing on empirical research from social psychology neuroscience business communication research cognitive science and behavioral economics Young reveals the thought processes of many different audiences from investors to CEOs to help students better understand why audiences make the decisions they make and how to influence them The book covers a broad range of communication techniques richly illustrated with compelling examples including resumes speeches and slide presentations to help students recognize persuasive methods that do and do not work A detailed analysis of the emotions and biases that go into decision making arms students with perceptive insights into human behavior and helps them apply this understanding with various decision making aids Students will learn how to impact potential employers clients and other audiences essential to their success This book will prove fascinating to many and especially useful for students of persuasion rhetoric and business communication Attitudes, Behavior, and Social Context Deborah J.

Terry, Michael A. Hogg, 1999-11-01 The reasons why people do not always act in accord with their attitudes has been the focus of much social psychological research as have the factors that account for why people change their attitudes and are persuaded by such influences as the media There is strong support for the view that attitude behavior consistency and persuasion cannot be well understood without reference to the wider social context in which we live Although attitudes are held by individuals they are social products to the extent that they are influenced by social norms and the expectations of others This book brings together an international group of researchers discussing private and public selves and their interaction through attitudes and behavior The effects of the social context on attitude behavior relations and persuasion is the central theme of this book which in its combination of theoretical exposition critique and empirical research should be of interest to both basic and applied social psychologists Communication and Persuasion Richard E. Petty, John T.

Cacioppo, 2012-12-06 It has been over 10 years since we initiated work on our first series of collaborative experiments As graduate students we had great fun planning conducting and writing this research Petty Cacioppo 1977 We enjoyed arguing with each other at our initial meeting in 1973 and have subsequently become best friends but neither of us suspected at the time that we would or could actively maintain a research collaboration over the next decade or that we would now find ourselves in a position to write this monograph As we note in Chapter 1 we began our studies of persuasion at a time when social psychology was in crisis and interest in research on attitude change in particular was declining As we write this we are aware of six new volumes on persuasion that are in press or in preparation and that should appear over the next few years In retrospect it is not so surprising that research on attitudes and persuasion would reemerge as a central concern of social psychology We believe that human feelings beliefs and behaviors whether in the domain of interpersonal relations e g marriage aggression politics e g voting revolution health e g following a medical regimen or economics e g consumer purchases are greatly influenced by the evaluations people have of other people objects and issues Furthermore evaluations attitudes are influenced by affect cognition and behavior Persuasion and Human Action Mary John Smith, 1982
