Peru And The International Monetary Fund Pitt Latin American Series:

Peru and the International Monetary Fund Thomas Scheetz, 2010-11-23 Thomas Scheetz shows that the International Monetary Fund's approach in 1980s Peru did not address the roots of debt and financial crisis but instead has instituted inadequate stopgap policies which have caused great inequities because of incorrect or biased assumptions. He argues that policies to eliminate excess demand in fact harm the poor and support the rich. The Catholic Church and Politics in Nicaragua and Costa Rica Philip J. Williams, 2010-11-23 Unlike most recent studies of the Catholic Church in Latin America Philip J. Williams analyzes the Church in two very dissimilar political contexts: Nicaragua and Costa Rica. Despite the obvious differences Williams argues that in both cases the Church has responded to social change in remarkably similar fashion. The efforts of progressive clergy to promote change in both countries have been largely blocked by Church hierarchy fearful that such change will threaten the Church's influence in society. Lords of the Mountain Louis A. Pérez

Jr., 1989-03-15 Lords of the Mountain is a colorful narrative that views how Cuba's violent history in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century was also a history of economic violence. From the 1870s the expanding sugar industry began to swallow up rural communities and destroy the traditional land tenure system as the great sugar estates, the latifundia, dominated the economy. Pérez chronicles the popular resistance to these powerful landholders and the violent uprisings and banditry propagated against them. Latin America in Books, 1987 Latin American Debt Crisis Robert Howe, 1990

Peru and the International Monetary Fund Thomas Edward Scheetz, Bibliographie der Wirtschaftswissenschaften, 1988 Handbook of Latin American Studies, 1989 Contains scholarly evaluations of books and book chapters as well as conference papers and articles published worldwide in the field of Latin American studies. Covers social sciences and the humanities in alternate years. Trade Regulation, Antitrust, and Economics, 1981

Domestic and Foreign Finance in Modern Peru, 1850-1950 Alfonso W. Quiroz, 1993 In exploring the financial history of a chronically indebted Latin American country Domestic and Foreign Finance in Modern Peru seeks to elucidate the evolving links between private, public, and foreign finance in order to assess their contribution to economic development. This novel historical approach allows the revision of commonly accepted views on the presumed insignificance of private financial systems and elite groups during the heyday of export-led growth. Alternatively, the book shows that major setbacks in financial decisions and strategies derived from expansionary public finance and its interaction with foreign financial flows. The book's demonstration rests on extensive evidence and research from private and public archives in Britain, France, Germany, Peru, Spain, and the USA. Theoretically, this study contributes to a much needed comprehensive model to explain financial problems in Latin American export economies. 日本経済 (Japan), 1987 The State and Capital Accumulation in Latin America: Argentina, Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Uruguay, Venezuela Christian Anglade, Carlos Fortin, 1985 Bibliographic Guide to Latin American Studies 1996 G.
